ITALY'S PACT DECLARED AIMED AGAINST BRITAIN

U.S. Dollar Is Losing Ground in Europe On Talk of Devaluation

Slumps From $5.00 1-8 to $5.02 3-16 to British Pound; Losses in France

Rumors Spread Across Atlantic

LONDON (AP)—Under heavy continental selling, the United States dollar slumped today from Saturday's low of $5.00 1-8 to the pound sterling to $5.02 3-16.

The sales were attributed to continental fear that a new devaluation of the dollar was imminent.

United States steel declined nearly 8 to 51, Brazilian Tractor 1 1/2 to 15 1/2, and International Nickel 4 1/2 to 40 1/2. Oils and metal shares weakened on continental selling. Tin slumped $90 a ton to $875, the lowest since May, 1933. Copper fell $2 to $180, the lowest since January, 1936.

Financial interests transferred funds from the United States and invested in gold. They paid a premium of 34 cents over the dollar's parity for more than $50,000,000 worth of gold.

ON FRENCH MARKET

PARIS (AP)—The franc continued to strengthen against the United States dollar today as the Bourse was filled with persistent reports there would be a new devaluation of the American currency.

The franc closed 29.27 francs to the dollar (3.416 cents to the franc), a gain of 21 centimes over Friday's close. The rise of the franc, in terms of the dollar, has been steady since October 27.

Hoover Warns Of Propaganda

Free Press Is Right of People, Says Former U.S. President in Address

WATERVILLE, Me. (AP)—Termining free speech, free press and free debate the "very life stream of advancing Liberalism," Herbert Hoover today warned the United States to guard against the "poison" of propaganda.

At the same time the former President asserted in the last 15 years "every dictator who has ascended to power has climbed on the ladder of free speech and free press," and then "suppressed all free speech except his own."

Hoover spoke at Colby College on the 100th anniversary of the death of Elijah Parish Lovejoy, a graduate of the college and an editor at Alton, Ill., who perished defending his right to print what he wished against slavery.

MOVE TO OUST U.S. JUDGE FAILS

Supreme Court Will Not Reconsider Motion to Bar Hugo Black

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Florida companies lost in the United States Supreme Court today in their effort to obtain reconstruction of a recent action on the ground Justice Hugo L. Black was ineligible to sit on the bench.

The court gave no explanation of its refusal to grant reconsideration. The announcement was made after Justice Black had read one opinion which he had written, dissented to another and voted against the government in a third case.

The Florida companies sought reconsideration of the court's refusal on October 18 to interfere with attempts by the Security Commission to subpoena telegrams sent and received by the companies.

Centre of Much Discussion

Charles E. Bedaux, freed from the task of guiding the Duke of Windsor on an industrial tour of the United States by the ex-King's decision to postpone the trip, is in New York. He arrived there about a week ago from Paris, where he had conferred with the Duke. The picture of Mr. and Mrs. Bedaux above was taken after they had reached New York.

ITALIAN INFANTRY IS BEING MOVED HOME FROM SPAIN

THIEVES TAKE $131

PORT HANEY, B.C. (CP)—British Columbia police were combing the lower Fraser valley for burglars who broke into two garages and a store here early today. The thieves, whose total loot was $431, attempted to open the safe in one of the garages by smashing the dial, police said.

Not Needed By Franco, Says Paris Correspondent; Artillery Stays

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Withdrawal of Italian soldiers from Spain is underway. The Paris correspondent of The London News-Chronicle wrote today. The correspondent said the withdrawals were not ordered as a conciliatory gesture to the Nonintervention Committee, but due to the fact the insurgents do not need them any more.

According to the correspondent, the withdrawals began three weeks ago and have now reached a phase where the bulk of the Italian infantry has left the peninsula.

Italian tank, artillery, aviation and technical services are remaining, however, the correspondent said.

"Possible developments in Central Europe and elsewhere make it dangerous for Premier Mussolini to leave a large mass of his available fighting material so far afield," the correspondent added.

The signature of the anti-Communist pact in Rome marks the climax of Fascist preparations to hunt bigger game than Spanish Republicans.

VANCOUVER DEATH

VANCOUVER (CP)—A funeral service will be held tomorrow for the late John W. Kerr. He died in a hospital Sunday in his 70th year.

GIVES BUDGET TWELFTH TIME

No Marked Changes in B.C. Fiscal Policy Expected Wednesday

No changes in taxation are anticipated in the provincial budget which Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, will submit to the British Columbia Legislature Wednesday.

It will be the twelfth time the white-haired finance minister has appeared before the House to present the financial estimates.

His latest budget is to cover the fiscal year 1938-39. As in the last three years, the existing taxation structure is expected to produce sufficient revenue to carry on all the ordinary costs of government with the exception of two items, unemployment relief, and the full sinking fund provisions.

Members of the House anticipate an increase in the expenditure estimates above the current year's figure of $26,390,594, chiefly to provide extra funds for road maintenance and re-newing of bridges in the provincial highway system which are in a state of disrepair.

On the basis of the 1936-37 revenues, which totaled $28,102,000, the treasury can estimate to cover all ordinary costs without changing taxes. British Columbia's taxation system is unchanged since 1934 when the 1-per cent wage tax was lifted and merged into the present weekly income tax collection, with exemptions increased to remove the load from small wage-earners.

J. F. MAUDER DIES

$70,000 NOW IN CHEST FUNDS

Objective Will Be Reached With Late Returns, Frank Paulding Says

Almost achieving its objective within the time limit, the seven-day campaign of the Community Chest to raise $72,000 for 23 charities in the Greater Victoria area will come to a close this evening.

Unofficial reports this morning indicate that the chest will pass over the $70,000 mark today. The official audit Saturday evening showed $66,482 had been received.

"There is no doubt about us reaching the goal," Frank Paulding, campaign manager, declared. "The only thing that is holding us up is the delayed returns."

The headquarters of the Community Chest will be kept open till Friday to receive late contributions. There will be the usual official audit at the end of a campaign day this evening, and there will also be extra audits on Wednesday and Friday evenings.

A celebration banquet is already planned. This will be a Dutch treat and will be held on Tuesday evening, November 16. The auditor's report showed that 5,296 persons had subscribed to the chest by Saturday. The women continued their remarkable canvassing which has seen them more than double their objective. One woman turned in an envelope containing $500 on Saturday afternoon.

B division, which had the business houses and stores as its field, has also exceeded its allotment. A division, which is the special gifts branch of the welfare federation, has collected $40,130 of its objective of $53,000.

Japan Declines to Join In Powers' Peace Discussion

Conferees at Brussels Tomorrow Will Consider Reply on China War

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—Japan will decline the new invitation extended by the Brussels Conference, the newspaper Asahi predicted today.

Japan's reply to the communication of the powers will simply reiterate the argument Japan cannot participate in a parley stemming from the League of Nations, that its military operations in China are a matter of "legitimate self-defence," and the only solution possible lies in direct negotiations with Nanking, the newspaper said.

Meanwhile considerable interest was aroused by a report published in the newspaper Yomiuri that Bolivia would soon adhere to the Italo-German-Japanese anti-Communist pact and other South American states might follow suit.

The next session of the conference at Brussels is set for tomorrow.

Rise In Milk Price Protested

Fraser Valley Producers Object to Decision of Board

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association today announced opposition to a statement by W. E. Williams, chairman of the Lower Mainland Dairy Producers Board, announcing an increase in the price of milk to consumers.

Mr. Williams recently said that "regulations will be put into effect which will guarantee better milk at a very slight increase in prices."

"In agreeing to accept a neutral milk board of three, on which we have just one representative, we reserved the right to differ with the views of the board," the association announcement said. "We wish to make it clear we are not in sympathy with the milk board's suggestion that the price of milk be raised."

The association has a membership of several thousand.

Telegrams of congratulation on his nomination as Liberal candidate in the forthcoming Victoria by-election to fill the federal seat left vacant by the death of Hon. S. F. Tolmie have been received by R. W. Mayhew from Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence.

"Please accept my heartiest congratulations upon your nomination as the Liberal standard bearer in the pending by-election in Victoria and my best wishes for your return as the representative of the constituency in the House of Commons."

The Minister of National Defence wired as follows:

"Heartiest congratulations on your nomination and best wishes for your success."

Windsors Plan Tour In Spring

Ex-King and Duchess in Paris Consider Visit to U.S. in February

PARIS (AP)—A source close to the Duke and Duchess of Windsor said today the couple had decided tentatively on February as a possible new date for their postponed trip to the United States.

They believe by that time "the criticism will have subsided," one of their associates said.

Postponement of the tour was announced Friday night. At that time the Duke said there had been "grave misconceptions" over his motives.

The couple expect to remain in Paris until Armistice Day, when the Duke may participate in memorial services "in a completely unofficial capacity," their associates said.

Dispatches from Austria were that the Duke and Duchess might return to Vienna or to the Enzesfeld Castle of Baron Eugene de Rothschild for a short stay or to spend the winter.

Persons close to the Duke said he had sent a message to President Roosevelt regretting he would be unable to make his scheduled call at the White House this week.

The message to the President, relayed through the British embassy, was as follows:

Vancouver Man Praises Chest

"Simply marvelous," was how Dr. G. F. Davidson, executive director of the Vancouver Welfare Federation, characterized the city's success in its Community Chest drive.

"Victoria can teach Vancouver a much needed lesson," he said. "We have had a community chest for eight years but we've never yet reached our objective."

"The fact that you have gone over the top in the first year speaks for itself."

Dr. Davidson was visiting here for the day and attended the meeting of the Community Chest executive at the headquarters this morning.

Shanghai Fight On Wider Front

Chinese Counter-attack Japanese Who Landed to South

SHANGHAI (AP)—Chinese declared Monday night they had launched a counter-offensive to isolate a Japanese force south of Shanghai, estimated at 25,000 men, from its landing base on the seacoast.

Severe fighting broke out both south and west of Shanghai. In Chekiang province, to the south, Chinese declared they had repulsed a surprise Japanese thrust toward Shanghai from the Hanchow Bay area.

Japanese reported advances south of Soochow Creek on the western edge of Shanghai's International Settlement.

THREE COLUMNS

Chinese reinforcements rushed to Sungkiang, vital point in the Chinese defences against which one of three Japanese columns was striking from the south.

Another Japanese column, Chinese army communiques reported, was held on the far side of the Whangpoo River from Shanghai when Chinese defenders forced a vanguard back across the stream at Minhang, 15 miles south of Shanghai.

Chinese asserted not only were their positions on the north side of the Whangpoo secure against

NEW YORK (CP)—A critical review of the German regime entitled "I Knew Hitler" was published today under the authorship of Kurt G. W. Government Is Expected to Send Objection to Invasion of Alaska Waters

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials considered today the dispatch of diplomatic representations to the Japanese government over the alleged encroachment of Japanese fishing vessels in the salmon catching grounds of Bristol Bay, Alaska.

Action in the form of an official United States protest, is expected soon on the basis of a report to the State Department by Leo D. Sturgeon, an attaché of the Far Eastern division. He recently completed an investigation

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Italy's adherence to the German-Japanese anti-Communist pact was viewed by the British press today as directed against Great Britain, rather than at Russia, whose internal difficulties have weakened her influence internationally.

"The anti-Communist pact of Rome is aimed at Great Britain," said The London News Chronicle, Liberal, adding: "The world knows what use can be made of unscrupulous Fascists of the epithet of Communism."

The London Daily Telegraph, Conservative, said it "was difficult not to read without a certain pardonable reserve Herr von Ribbentrop's statement at the signing of the Rome pact on Saturday that this act is a guarantee for world peace."

"It would be easier to believe if Bolshevism today were the only formidable enemy to world peace. But recent events have strongly suggested that peace at the present time has the most to fear from the embattled allied enemies of Bolshevism."

"France, Great Britain and the United States might be excused for finding not much reassurance in the barrier against Bolshevism which extends from the Baltic and North Sea through the Mediterranean to the Pacific, where some of their vital interests might be affected, and where, as Signor Gayda (Virginio Gayda, authoritative Italian commentator) amicably reminds us 2,000,000 tons of warships can be concentrated."

"Indeed France and Great Britain might be excused for believing that their concern in this anti-Bolshevist pact was more direct than that of Soviet Russia, which has the advantage of being almost invulnerable."

DANGER ELIMINATED

The Manchester Guardian, Liberal, emphasized that the Communist danger had been virtually eliminated by the purge within the Soviet Union, and hence the new pact must have a hidden motive.

"Russia rapidly is being transformed into a nationalist state," the newspaper declared. "Above all as a nationalist is Stalin, who compares with Peter the Great and Ivan the Terrible. Russia appears reduced to great weakness by the purge. She is entirely on the defensive in her relations with the outside world."

"Although it is anti-Russian, the pact is not directed against Russia alone, or even primarily against her. It is above all directed against Great Britain."

"Without Great Britain and to some extent the United States, Japan would have unchallenged hegemony of the entire Far East, including the Dutch East Indies."

MOVES BY FRANCE

France was planning today to strengthen her ties with Great Britain and the United States, possibly pointing out to the latter the possibilities of South American countries joining the anti-Communism alignment. Tokio dispatches indicated Bolivia might join, with other Latin American countries, following suit.

There seemed little chance, meanwhile, that Japan would change her attitude on non-cooperation with the Brussels Nine-power Treaty Conference, which will resume its deliberations in the Belgian capital tomorrow.

soon as the Brussels Conference on the Far Eastern conflict ends. This will be the first visit of a French Foreign Minister to France's eastern Europe allies since the late Louis Barthou made his trip in April, 1934. Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Roumania make up the Little Entente.

Reports here mentioned the possibility of Poland joining the anti-Communist pact. It also reported in diplomatic circles Germany soon would extend an invitation to Czechoslovakia in the belief the nation which the Nazi Fascist press calls "the Soviet advance post in Europe," will be forced to join in the agreement or be branded as a Communist ally. Refusal to join would give any German intervention in Czechoslovakia the appearance of self-defence, these reports said.

URGED TO JOIN

ROME (CP)—Appeals to other "anti-Bolshevik" powers, including the Latin-American countries, to join the crusade for "the isolation and destruction of Communism" are tempered in the Italian press by assurances the new pact signed by Germany, Italy and Japan is neither a military alliance nor a thrust at the Soviet Union.

The three powers signing the accord, Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist commentator, wrote in the Giornale d'Italia, will welcome early adherence of Brazil and other Latin-American states, as well as Portugal, Switzerland, Poland, Austria, Hungary and Yugoslavia.

Those countries, Gayda declared, all have the vital problem of assuring "the isolation and destruction of Communism" in order to "preserve world peace."

The brief protocol affirmed the unity of the three powers and brought Italy into the original Japanese-German pact as though she had been an original signatory when it was reached November 25, 1936.

Fascist writers intimated the agreement binds the three powers to a "collaboration" which goes beyond even the fight against Communism. At the same time, officials emphasized the pact was not directed against any country—not even Russia, "which may have all the Communism it wants as long as she keeps it at home."

EXCHANGE INFORMATION

The agreement contains no military clauses, but binds the signatories to full exchange of information on the world spread of Communism and the means necessary to combat it.

Japan, "which is engaged in a hard, Asiatic anti-Communist struggle," was especially lauded by Fascist commentators.

Japan was described as working "for a new form of life more human and, at the same time, more virile and for a more just organization of international affairs." Thus, the press stated, Italian-Japanese interests coincide.

"That is why big, reactionary democracies, which would like to run history for their own benefit and freeze their hegemony into a rigid judicial system, are trying to shut the door in all directions."

Foreign observers here believed the most important immediate effect of the new accord seemed to be a further strengthening of the Rome-Berlin axis, rather than a tightening of Fascist-Japanese bonds.

bassies in Paris and Washington, was one of many the former King sent to the United States.

POLICE BODYGUARD

Paris police acted to enforce the determination of the Duke to retire to the role of private citizen, now that his United States tour has been called off. When the Duke and Duchess went out in the afternoon for a drive through the Bois de Boulogne, a bodyguard accompanied them.

Members of the Duke's entourage placed before him what they considered evidence his decision to postpone his journey to the United States had turned public opinion in his favor.

Included was the statement of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that the Duke would be welcomed by American labor now that Charles E. Badaux would not be connected with his tour. The Duke also read summaries of press comments indicating his assurances he was above politics were taken at face value.

BEDAUX QUITS FIRM

LONDON (AP)—Charles Badaux, millionaire industrialist and key figure in the controversy which led to the postponement of the United States visit of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, resigned today from the board of directors of British Bedaux Ltd., consulting industrial engineers. The announcement of his resignation merely said it would in no way affect the management of the company.

MANY DIE AS TRAIN BOMBED

NANKING (CP-Havas)—More than 200 persons were killed or wounded today by a Japanese aerial attack on the "Blue Express," passenger train of the Tientsin-Pukow Railway.

The attack was made near Hsuehchow in Kiangsu province, which lies to the immediate north of Shanghai.

ROWE RETURNED TO THE COMMONS

ALLISTON, Ont. (CP)—Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader, was elected to the House of Commons for Dufferin-Simcoe by acclamation today when nominations for the November 15 by-election closed.

The Liberal Party decided several days ago not to oppose Mr. Rowe's return to Parliament, and no other candidate except the Conservative filed nomination papers.

Mr. Rowe has no seat in the Ontario Legislature.

Roumanian Queen Is Seriously Ill

BUCHAREST (AP)—Illness of Dowager Queen Marie dampened enthusiasm today for what otherwise would have been a joyous occasion, the celebration of Prince Mihail's name day.

The 61-year-old queen suffered a recurrence of internal hemorrhage which she had experienced last March. Pending a consultation of eight specialists summoned to her bedside in Zetreni Castle, there was no official report on the seriousness of her condition.

MINER'S DEATH WAS ACCIDENT
NANAIMO—The coroner's jury investigating the circumstances of the death of John Bowness, veteran miner, killed in Reserve Mine of the Western Fuel Co. on November 4, brought in a verdict that it was unavoidable, with no blame to anyone.
The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, Rev. Canon Hitchcox officiating.

Notes of the Legislature
Tomorrow—Debate on the Speech from the Throne will be concluded; speakers, Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, and Capt. C. S. Leary, Liberal, Kaslo-Sloan.

Seven days of speaking so far, and two to go, will wind up the debate which has been notable, mainly, for failure of the Opposition to provoke the treasury into heated argument. The government, as a matter of fact, feels it has been so little under attack that it is sending only one minister to reply to the left benches.

The agricultural committee, under Frank Putnam, Nelson-Creston, will meet the advisory board of Farmers' institutes tomorrow morning. The municipal committee, under R. R. Burns, Rossland-Trail, also meeting tomorrow.

The private bills committee will hold its first meeting tomorrow. Its main business is to deal with the annual Vancouver charter amendments, of which there are 35. Contentious amendments, which include the city's long-standing fight to tax harbor leases, and changes in license fees for banks and department stores, will be deferred till next Tuesday, it was indicated.

Dr. Frank P. Patterson, the Conservative leader, was welcomed back in the House today by his colleagues on both sides. He has been indisposed since a week ago Friday.

Business Upswing Is Seen In Canada

Statistics Show Physical Volume of Trade Up 10.8 Per Cent

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today a marked improvement in Canadian economic conditions in the first nine months of 1937 was indicated by the trend of major factors.

The index of the physical volume of business, averaged 121.8, a gain of 10.8 per cent over the 109.9, the standing in the same period of 1936.

The business index is based on 46 factors relating to the trend in mineral production, manufacturing, construction, electric power and distribution. The factors are individually adjusted for seasonal tendencies and expressed as a percentage of the monthly average for the base year 1926.

Index of common stock prices averaged 134.7 in the first nine months compared with 115.8 in the same period of 1936. The gain in this comparison was consequently 16.3 per cent. Mining stock prices averaged 0.7 per cent higher, the index being 152.3 compared with 151.3.

The mineral production index based on the nine factors was 188.6 in the elapsed portion of 1937, compared with 162.8. The gain of nearly 16 per cent indicates widespread gain in operations contingent in large measure on expansion of demand in external markets. The index of manufacturing production based on 30 factors averaged 11 per cent higher than in 1936.

The construction industry was more active, the amount of new contracts awarded being $178,000,000 compared with $128,000,000. Building permits, at $43,000,000 compared with $31,000,000, showed an increase of 39 per cent.

Ontario Police Hunting Ghouls

Poses Seek Two Men Who Removed Body of Aged Man at Woodbridge

WOODBRIDGE, Ont. (CP)—Suburban Toronto's sinister and ghastly ghouls—one a big man wearing size 12 boots and the other of average build—eluded posers today as municipal authorities in the district planned to guard all graveyards.

Twice the ghouls have struck, apparently for no other reason than to terrorize the farming country that lies within 10 miles of Toronto. So far as police know, the robbers still have in their possession the body of a 70-year-old man removed from a Woodbridge grave.

Oliver Borland of the Ontario provincial police criminal investigation department took casts of footprints near the despoiled grave and at intervals for 700 feet through bush-adjointing the cemetery.
The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, Rev. Canon Hitchcox officiating.

the Japanese offensive, but also the attackers were in danger of being cut off from their shore base by a Chinese flanking operation.

HOLDING POSITIONS

Although a Japanese spokesman asserted there were indications defence troops were on the verge of collapse south of Soochow Creek, neutral observers who traversed the area Monday night said they had seen no signs of Chinese withdrawals.

Some Japanese officials said a flying column had severed the Hangchow-Shanghai railroad near Sungkiang, but the official Japanese spokesman Monday night said he had no authoritative reports. The railroad is a main channel of Chinese communications from Shanghai to the south-east.

Chinese units from the Kashi-Kashan area, about 45 miles southwest of Shanghai, were reported to have routed Japanese from Changyen.

On the front south of Soochow Creek and west of Shanghai's French Concession, Japanese asserted 4,000 Chinese were retreating under intense aerial and artillery bombardments from the area between St. Mary's Hall and the Kwangwha University, adjoining the International Settlement.

JAPANESE TAKE TOWN

TIENSIN (CP-Havas)—Japanese troops entered Talyuanfu, capital of Shansi Province in North China, at 9.15 a.m. Monday, it was announced here.

Fighting continued in the streets of the northwest section of the city, where units of a "suicide" detachment of 5,000 men doggedly contested the Japanese entry.

After a "premature" announcement the north gate had been taken, Japanese artillery pounded away at the northern wall, and after two hours succeeded in smashing through its northwest corner.

SOVIET MARKS 20TH BIRTHDAY

Great Parade Celebrates in Moscow; Declarations Against Fascism

MOSCOW (AP)—With one of the greatest martial displays in its history the Soviet Union Sunday night celebrated the 20th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution that gave it birth.

Coincident with the display, the Communist International defied the new pact signed by Germany, Italy and Japan against Communism.

The masses joined with the army in the demonstration. More than 1,000,000 persons marched past the tomb of Nikolai Lenin, whose coup of 20 years ago began a new age in Russia.

Tanks, guns and thousands of soldiers swept past under the eyes of Joseph Stalin, displaying the union's backing for the declaration of its Defence Commissar, Marshal Klementi Voroshiloff.

"The Red army is for peace, but we are ready to beat off any enemy attack."

Voroshiloff was the only speaker who addressed the troops.

WARNING TO FASCISTS

A Comintern manifesto said Communist organization centring here, warned Germany, Italy and Japan of its belief that their workers, inspired by 20 years of Socialism in Russia, would use the next revolution against capitalism.

A Comintern manifesto said Spanish workers, "inspired by victories of toilers in the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics," were already fighting for "a new type of democratic republic" with the proletariat as "the driving force."

It added "the example of the greatest Socialist revolution is reinforcing the national consciousness of Chinese people," while "even in Germany, Italy and Japan, forces of the anti-Fascist struggle are growing incessantly."

Franco Regrets Ship Bombing

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons today the Spanish insurgent leader, General Franco, had sent a note expressing regret for the sinking of the British merchantman Jean Weems October 31. He said the insurgents had offered to submit the questions of liability and compensation to arbitration.

The Foreign Secretary turned aside questions as to the identity of the pilot of the attacking plane who, some have hinted, might have been Bruno Mussolini, son of the Italian premier.

Mr. Eden also disclosed the way was now clear for the proposed exchange of commercial agents between Great Britain and Franco's regime.

leader had ordered the release of seven British freighters seized off the north Spanish coast and had ordered the equivalent of two seized cargoes of iron ore placed at the disposal of the British ambassador to Spain in Hendaye.
The Foreign Secretary declared the commercial exchange which had been held up by the matter of the captured ships, was "essential" to British economic interests involved in the part of Spain now controlled by Franco.
He denied the commercial agreement meant diplomatic recognition for the insurgents. He said Great Britain would keep its charge d'affaires at the seat of the Spanish government.

Anti-Semitism Seen In Canada

Rabbi Eisendrath Tells Toronto Audience of Germans' Activities

TORONTO (CP) — Anti-Semitism has reached such grave proportions in Canada that warrants action by the federal government, Rabbi Maurice Eisendrath of the Holy Blossom

Synagogue said in an address here Sunday. Germany's Nazi government and its agents were blamed by Rabbi Eisendrath for the alleged spread of anti-Semitism. Nazi groups were springing up in Canada, especially Toronto, he said, and the members greeted each other with the Nazi salutation "Heil." "Tons" of literature were being distributed throughout the Dominion, he said. The Rabbi named the "Canadian Society for German Culture" as one of the societies in Canada which was sponsoring Nazi ideals and hatred of the Jews.

Big Death Toll In United States

Fatalities on Highways at Week-end Close to 200

NEW YORK (AP) — Sudden death took no week-end holiday for the motoring millions of the U.S. At least 181 persons were killed in highway accidents—18 of them in three spectacular crashes, in each of which the toll was six lives. Twenty-one persons were killed in New York State alone.

A grade crossing crash at Adairsville, Ga., brought death to six members of a single family. Six persons died when a sedan and truck collided head-on at Rhinebeck, N.Y. Six boys and girls from 10 to 19 years old were killed when their car skidded to a halt in the path of a passenger train at Knox City, Mo.

The National Safety Council reported traffic deaths for the United States during the first nine months of 1937 totaled 28,140. In that period the toll in New York State was 1,863, an 18 per cent rise over last year.

Former Customs Man Ends Life

SEATTLE (AP) — Frank P. Loftus, 66, retired chief customs inspector, died Sunday from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, Coroner Otto Mittelstadt said today, because he despaired of recovery from pain, he had suffered for more than five years.

He shot himself through the head at the family home where was his wife, his companion in the early days of the customs service on Puget Sound, and still on active duty as a customs inspector, was meeting a Japanese ship.

Loftus retired from active service in July, 1932. He was first appointed an inspector on June 24, 1893.

French Fascist Leader Fined

LYONS, France (CP-Havas) — Colonel Francois de La Rocque, leader of the pro-Fascist French Social Party, was convicted of slander today on a charge brought by Duke Rozzo di Borgo, his former lieutenant in the banned Croix de Feu.

Col. de La Rocque was fined 200 francs ($6.76) and ordered to pay damages of 3,000 francs (about $100) and costs.

League Society Condemns Japan

Dominion Urged to Adopt Policy Respecting Nine-Power Conference

OTTAWA (CP) — The executive committee of the League of Nations Society in Canada and its committee of national participating organizations reaffirmed its condemnation of Japanese aggression in China at a meeting here Saturday, and urged the Dominion Government to adopt a policy respecting the Nine-power Conference called to consider that dispute.

The meeting urged the government adopt as its policy that, failing "a cessation of warfare and a fair and equitable settlement of grievances, based on mutual understanding and goodwill, it is prepared to carry out its duties under the covenant, and that it is ready in particular to join in such collective action as may seem wise and effectual for putting stop to the aggression, provided that sufficiently representative international participation is assured to bring the desired result."

The next national conference of the society was tentatively for next May 23 and 24, and it was decided to issue at once a preliminary call to 300 member organizations and branches so preparations might be begun throughout the country.

SOCIETY GROWS

Senator Cairine Wilson of Ottawa, president of the society, said in her report the meeting was being held at a critical stage in world affairs, "but with our own (the society's) strength and possibilities of action much greater than ever before."

"We must summon the courage of leadership," said Mrs. Wilson, "for it is obvious that we must be ahead of majority opinion or there would be little reason for us to exist. Our continued existence depends on our ability to demonstrate our determination to lead and to hold our principles despite opposition. We must courageously face the implications on our own policy."

Prime Minister King wrote the society he had read with "much interest and care" the proposal the society had submitted in connection with establishment of a committee on nutrition. He said he had referred to members of the government whose departments were immediately concerned the representations made, and had asked that after they had opportunity to consider them the matter be brought before the cabinet for further consideration.

FORMER MAYOR DIES

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Thos. E. Latimer, 58, mayor of Minneapolis from 1935 to 1937, died in a hospital Saturday of what his physician said was sleeping sickness. He, Latimer, was defeated for re-nomination for mayor last spring. He had been prominent in the Farmer-Labor party in Minneapolis.

JUDGES ARE TO BE APPOINTED

Three Vacant Seats in the Senate Also Are to Be Filled

OTTAWA (CP) — Senate vacancies in three provinces, several important judicial vacancies and some administrative posts in the government service will occupy the government shortly in selection of appointees. Announcement respecting senators is not expected until near the opening of Parliament. The cabinet will meet tomorrow.

A jolt in government activity may follow the series of developments in the past week, which included reference of three Alberta bills to the Supreme Court, swift subscription of a $100,000 government loan, a Dominion-provincial conference on old age pensions, and a declaration by Prime Minister King that no general election was in sight until 1940.

Uncertainty over fate of three Alberta bills dealing with bank taxes, credit control and news publication, assent to which was reserved for the Governor-General by Lieutenant Governor Bowen when they were presented to him October 5, was extended when the measures were submitted to the Supreme Court for a test of competency of the Alberta Legislature to enact them.

Pending verdict of the court the Governor-General will reserve his decision whether assent will be given. If the pleasure of the Governor-General is not signified within a year from last October 5 the bills will become obsolete, regardless of the decision of the courts.

Son of the late Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty, he made his first appearance on the stage in 1909 as Salarino in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice." His favorite role was that of Prince Michael in "To Have Honor," which he first performed at the Wyndham Theatre in 1924.

A Reactionary Week-end

ON SATURDAY IN ROME, ITALY signed the German-Japanese anti-Communism pact. Germany's Herr von Ribbentrop says this tripartite agreement "is a guarantee for world peace." Fascist Italy intimates that the three powers now are bound to "collaboration" which goes beyond the fight on Communism. Some Italian officials assure us that the pact is not directed against any country—not even Russia, "which may have all the Communism it wants as long as she keeps it at home." Then Italy's leading commentator paints a verbal picture of his country's might in terms of battleship tonnage and man power now at the disposal of the anti-Communism bloc.

Yesterday in Moscow Stalin and his Commissars saw Russia's army on parade to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the establishment of the Soviet. Marshal Klement Voroshiloff, Commissar for War, was the spokesman for this imposing demonstration. The representatives of Germany, Japan, and Italy were among the distinguished galaxy of foreign spectators. They heard Voroshiloff say, among other things, that "the Red Army is for peace," but Russia is "ready to beat off any attack." And he exclaimed for all to note: "Fascism is threatening all peoples of the world with bloody war" and "we have replied and will reply again to the howling and plotting of war incendiaries: we do not want war, but we do not fear war, and are ready for war."

The general trend of the more influential comment of the newspapers of Great Britain this morning is that the anti-Communism pact is aimed directly at the United Kingdom. The Liberal News-Chronicle makes this charge outright and the Conservative Daily Telegraph-Morning Post, referring specifically to Herr von Ribbentrop's pronouncement quoted above, says that it would be easier to believe in the peaceful objective of the pact if recent events had not "strongly suggested that peace at the present time has the most to fear from the embattled allied enemies of Bolshevism." The Manchester Guardian, agreeing with The News-Chronicle and its London contemporary, observes in part:

"Although it is anti-Russia, the pact is not directed against Russia alone or even primarily against her. It is above all directed against Great Britain. Without Great Britain, and to some extent the United States, Japan would have unchallenged hegemony of the entire Far East, including the Dutch East Indies. Without Great Britain, Italy would be master of the Eastern Mediterranean, and France would be, at least, immobilized by Germany. Without Great Britain, Germany would be able to do what Hitler demands in his book, 'Mein Kampf,' namely establish her hegemony over the whole European Commonwealth."

From a consideration of the foregoing some plain facts emerge. The three parties to the anti-Communism pact are indicted violators of the peace. Italy sought out the Ethiopian in the African woodpile for complete subjugation and haggled in a "defensive" war in Spain against Spanish loyalists, treating them as her own arch enemy. Japan's ravaging of China, so Japan argues, is for China's good and, of course, the invader points to Communism as the justification for her brutal course. Treaty-breaking Germany sees Communism round every corner and has built up a huge "defensive" machine to combat it. Meanwhile, Soviet Russia has the right to her display of pride in what she considers 20 years of progress. Twenty years in the life of a nation is but a few seconds in the realm of time's march. This can be said of Russia, however, she is attending strictly to her own business, a claim neither Germany, Japan nor Italy can advance.

What Is Education?

WE ARE HEARING A GOOD DEAL about education in this province these days, its cost, whether the products of our system are worth all that is being spent on them, and what ought to be done about it generally. In Great Britain they are asking: What Is Education? A well-known economist and a school official supply three replies between them:

These are two definitions from Sir Josiah Stamp: 1. "The inculcation of the incompressible into the ignorant by the incompetent." 2. "What you have left when you have forgotten all you know."

The third comes from Mr. D. E. Cooke, Buckinghamshire secretary for education: "The casting of metaphorical pearls before real swine."

If our own British Columbia educationist, Hon. George Weir, had no controversial matters on his mind at the moment, we might feel constrained to ask him to prepare an instructive treatise on the question above propounded.

A veteran of the American Civil War who attributed his longevity to the use of rye whisky died the other day, aged 101. Drink was bound to get him down in the end.

The Duke's Dilemma

IN THE LAST 72 HOURS THE DUKE AND Duchess of Windsor have said their preliminary farewells on the eve of a visit to the United States; dispatched 70 large trunks of varied wearing apparel for both; canceled the trip and recalled the baggage; suggested a tour of Soviet Russia as a substitute change of scene; and, finally, decided to take a week's rest in Paris before making any announcement of their future movements.

Although the cancellation of the Duke's trip to the United States is causing not a little controversy—with feeling running somewhat high in some circles—there is no doubt that the people as a whole would have given him a cordial welcome if he had followed out the original programme. As far as it has been possible to gather from what has been said openly, and from what one may suppose has passed through the minds of many well-wishers of the former King and his Duchess, the principal objection—if objection is the correct word to use—was not one to the visit itself or its much publicized object, but the apparent unpopularity of one, Bedaux, who had established himself as a cicerone and "general manager" in chief. A large and well-known advertising agency, moreover, had been engaged to look after the publicity which, presumably, it was intended to feed to the press. This latter alone was a flagrant breach of good taste.

We in this country are not concerned, any more than are the people of Great Britain and the rest of the Empire, in the mode of life the Duke and Duchess of Windsor have mapped out for themselves. There are, of course, certain agencies attached to the official machinery of the British government which shut ears and eyes to the important events that form part of the international drama—but open them very wide when the slightest disturbing incident makes even the most unobtrusive appearance. We may never know what, if anything, has gone on behind the scenes in official London or official Washington to add to the somewhat sensational news of the last 72 hours. Officialdom in both capitals, as far as the public knows, has held itself aloof. To a section of Labor's forces belongs the responsibility in this case for drawing attention to the Duke's visit, not only in such a manner as to throw doubt—by no means in an unkind way—on the wisdom of his main plans but also the embarrassment that might be caused if the proposed inspectional tour were left in the charge of Mr. Bedaux. Some idea of what this gentleman himself was afraid of was revealed in the phraseology of the cable he dispatched to the Duke last Friday, in which he begged, may I implore, to be released from the job of his own choice.

However, the Duke has decided to stay in Europe for the time being, obviously to give himself time to think matters over. It is not fair to blame him for feeling there still is something useful to which he may set his hand. He knows more than a little about the trials and tribulations of the working people of Great Britain. He visited the "dark" areas only a short time before his abdication and promised them something should be done to improve their lot. That was in his sphere of influence, but he forfeited the right to exert it when he chose to become an exile. His attempt to pick up the thread in other countries, sincere though he undoubtedly was, is outside the practical realm. He will have to discover some new means to counteract the restlessness which evidently has him in its grip. There is still left to him all the facilities for enjoyable travel in a purely private capacity. He may still recapture some of the fascination of "the crowd"—an atmosphere which had thrilled him for years, for he will meet admirers wherever he may go. His status, however, forbids the ballyhoo of a pseudo-impressario of the Bedaux type.

Notes

Japan's sole desire, says a Tokyo spokesman, is peace in China. The peace of the dead?

Somebody nailed a horseshoe over the entrance to the room where the Spanish non-intervention committee was meeting. The only horseshoe the poor Spaniards have seen lately have had flying hoofs attached to them.

MATTER OF DOLLARS AND CENTS

From B.C. Producer-Consumer
There is a feeling abroad in Canada, and particularly in British Columbia, that Japanese goods should be boycotted. We have no intention of entering into any controversy based on the current Sino-Japanese disturbances, with all their dangers to British subjects and to Pacific nations. But it would not be out of place to point out a few facts about Canadian trade with Japan.

During September, Canada's exports to Japan increased 31.8 per cent, from $1,543,899 in September, 1936, to $2,034,386 in the same month this year. More than half of the exports were of materials capable of being used for munitions purposes.

While this total may seem small compared to the exports to the United States ($43,995,883) and the United Kingdom ($33,189,307), our two best customers, nevertheless it is large enough to be important to many employers and employees, office clerks and farmers. And there is also this fact; at present a five-to-one trade balance is operating in Canada's favor, in Japanese trade. It is estimated that the year's export to Japan will total at least $25,000,000, and that imports from Japan will reach only $5,000,000.

Much of this is probably due to war-time trade; nevertheless, it is a fact worth keeping in mind when boycotts, official or unofficial, are being considered.

In this hectic age, dollars and cents are never far removed from the roots of war. A deplorable fact, but a true one, nevertheless.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

ON THE INSIDE

MY FRIEND Fred Busby, who mends shoes out this way, tells me it's getting worse. "It was bad enough a few years ago," he said, "but it's getting worse. The women's feet, I mean. Cruel, is what I mean. The way they wear these high heels, you know. They look swell, don't they, with a slick ankle to go in 'em? Oh, sure; they look swell. But you don't know what misery's behind 'em. Only a shoemaker knows what misery's behind 'em."

Why, hundreds of women come in here from time to time and they say, 'Mr. Busby, they say, what am I going to do about my feet?' they say, 'I'm in agony all the time, and I'm going lame,' they say. 'Oh, do fix my shoes,' they say, 'so I can walk.' Sure, I say, I'll fix 'em. I'll cut those high heels down level and then you'll be as comfortable as an Indian, I say. 'Oh, you can't do that,' they say. 'You can't cut down the heels. Why, they wouldn't look right,' they say. No, I say, but they'll feel right. Which would you rather, I say. Would you rather be comfortable or be in style, I say, and go round with your feet all distorted out of shape and lumpy and horrible, I say, and your spine twisted and your knees bent all the time.

"They never let me cut down the heels. They'd rather go round limping like a lame crow. And that's what they're doing,' most of 'em too. You don't know it. The average man don't know it. He just sees a neat ankle and it does look swell, don't it? But you don't see the horrible, cramped, sore feet inside the slipper. You don't know how the women are all limping about in agony on them stiletto just as you'll look twice at their ankle. Ah," says Mr. Busby, rolling his eyes in deep melancholy, "if you could only see the inside of the shoe like I do!"

YOU MUST SEE

MISS DOROTHY THOMPSON, who was quoted on this page the other night, is a great American journalist, but her economics are not too strong. They never were, so far as I can find out. She was quoted as saying that the fascist, have-not nations don't need any more territory because they are not using what they have, the Germans having taken land out of cultivation for military purposes and the Italians having spent enough on Ethiopia to make Sicily a garden.

This, of course, misses the point of fascist policy and the policy of every nation, for that matter. The point is not that a modern industrial nation needs space to grow things, or even mines or forests. It can always buy all it wants to eat, all the raw materials it needs to manufacture, if—and this is the big "if" of the whole system—it has some place to sell its products. So long as its industries must make profits instead of feeding the home folks, which is the main purpose of all industry, the overpowering need is markets.

If the world would take all Japan's manufactures, it wouldn't need China to exploit. It could buy logs here and sell us lumber, or metals and sell us guns. Britain has been living on this process since the Industrial Revolution, and has built an empire on it.

Industry can't make a profit for its owners and still give the man who works in it enough wages to buy the products of the industry. There must be a surplus exported abroad to foreigners who will pay in gold, not in goods.

If you have a market to exploit, you don't need to worry much about anything else. You can make a profit, if the home folks are satisfied with low wages. That is what Japan needs China for. That is why all the have-not powers need spheres of influence—places to sell their products for the profit of the men who own industries and machines. In the old days it was easy to get such places, but there aren't many left now, not enough primitive, unexploited, non-industrialized people to go around. You must fight for them nowadays.

WYANDOTTES

WELL," said Mrs. Noggins, "I see the Legislature is at it again. Well, well, it does keep on, doesn't it? Mind you, I was never one to knock the Legislature. Beak's allus knockin' it. Beak's says it don't amount to nothin' because it's only a little local Legislature and 'e's seen the British Parlymint a-settin' many a time. I don't 'old with that, you know. Just because a thing is small don't mean it ain't important. Where'd we be if we was only interested in important things hanyways? When you get down to it the British Parlymint ain't so important compared with the whole world, and the whole world ain't much when you think about the stars.

"Nothink in the 'uman family is so important that you can afford to turn up your nose at anythink. Not even at the Legislature. The way I look at it is it's your own things you're interested in. Take me: I'm more interested in me new White Wyandottes than I am in the British Parlymint or the whole League of Nations. The League is all right, mind you, but I never sit up at night thinkin' about it, but I sat up three nights with them Wyandotte chicks.

"It's the same way with the Legislature, the way I look at it. I mean it ain't so big or important compared with the League of Nations, but its our own, like my Wyandottes. And if you can't keep up hinterest in yer own, I mean if you start thinkin' about important things like the stars and all like that, you'll go out of yer 'ead. If you stick to yer Legislature and yer Wyandottes, wot I mean, you won't go out of yer 'ead.

"It's the little simple things of life that makes it worth while. I tell you, I can sit in the Legislature in the gallery with my knittin' all afternoon and it's certainly restful to 'ear 'em talking when you don't know what they're talkin' about and don't have to listen. It sounds so peaceful, like. Oh, no, sir, I was never one to knock the Legislature."

To Right or Left? Which Course Will Roosevelt Take?

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.

THIS is another of those screwy periods in New Deal history when pundits solemnly ask each other and their leaders whether Roosevelt is going "to go the right or to the left."

When this question is raised, all veteran observers who are capable of learning by experience automatically lean back and predict with a yawn that subsequent wiggles of the administration will veer toward the port rather than the starboard side.

HITS WALL STREET FOES

NEVERTHELESS, the degree of pressure from the so-called right probably is heavier to the square inch than at any previous time. It reached unprecedented strength just before the President's Federal Reserve dedication speech. But Roosevelt ignored desperate conservative pleas to give business various reassurances.

Look at the Federal Reserve Board's reduction of stock market margin requirements from 55 to 40 per cent has been widely interpreted as an administration concession to Wall Street. It was. But the only reason for it was the fact that Roosevelt and Chairman Eccles were especially anxious to impose a new 50 per cent margin requirement on short sales and made the reduction just to make it appear that they were doing more than kicking Wall Street in the face. Net effect was a sock at Roosevelt's real or fancied foes in Wall Street.

BLAMES BUSINESS

It must be remembered that New Deal theory, however vague it may be on some particulars, is in general aimed at keeping the capitalist system functioning on all six, if that be possible. The President, you may be sure, believes that practically all business troubles are brought upon itself by business.

He is convinced that rebellion by industry against New Deal laws, plus a certain amount of deliberate sabotage, has been a factor in the current slump. If big business men had not preferred to defy the National Labor Relations Act, he believes, industry would not have stocked up inventories at high prices last spring. If business men were not so greedy in their demand for profit, he feels, they would have refrained from raising prices to what he considers an almost disastrous extent.

The New Deal idea is that business men should be content with small unit profits and make their money out of volume. Meanwhile, Doctor Roosevelt figures that his job is to keep business from wounding itself and committing mayhem on the general welfare—and that if one of his remedies doesn't work, another will.

DOUBLE-BARRELED HATRED

COUPLED with this attitude is the fact that the "hate Roosevelt" attitude of most business men has stirred up an increasing irritation in F. D. R. He is a "good hater" himself. It may or may not be tough on the country, but the man who felt four years ago that he could depend on 90 per cent of business to co-operate with his programme now feels that he can depend on about 10 per cent, and that the rest of business is so selfish as to require federal mastery.

The state of the President's mind continues to be a most important factor in the current situation.

HIGHWAY DEATH CORNER

To the Editor:—Recently you were kind enough to publish an open letter from me to the reeve and council of the Municipality of Saanich under the above heading, in which I called their attention to the very dangerous condition of the road surface on Burnside Road, from Harriet Road northwest to Wilkinson Road.

For the information of any of your readers who may be interested in this matter I give the following reply to this letter which I have received from the clerk to the Municipal Council of Saanich:

Royal Oak, B.C., Oct. 29, 1937
Mr. Hubert Savage,
Victoria, B.C.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of recent date was read at the last meeting of the municipal council, when I was directed to inform you that the letter had been received and filed.

Yours truly,
R. F. Sewell, C.M.C.

It would appear from this curt reply that the present council apparently intends to do exactly nothing in connection with this matter of vital importance to the public safety. Perhaps in the dim future there may be an awakening from this laissez faire attitude by a new council, or may be the provincial government may take a hand in making this very much used highway safe for automobile traffic.

TAXING CHILD PEDDLERS

To the Editor:—In your paper there is a warning issued to people selling Christmas cards that anyone selling cards made in the east must purchase a license for selling same. Do the person or persons issuing this warning realize that in numerous cases it is children, some on relief, that are selling these cards in the hope of getting some little gift for their parents. When the authorities start doing this, it is nearing the time when some apparatus will be made to measure the cubic feet of air a person consumes and tax him for it.

BOUQUETS

To the Editor:—Page 8 of The Victoria Times magazine section in your issue of 6th instant is very good. How wonderfully well these girls write. So terse. Such a sense of humor. "B.C. Archives: Adventures" by Reby Edmond, is a gem. What a find, and with what talent told those old-time tales of men we all know by name and whose descendants are still with us.

Then Marian Hanna's "A Victoria Teacher in London. Her excavations in the British Museum," recall memories of my own. This is the sort of writing we enjoy. They have a future, anyhow, these girls.

Oldsmobile For 1938 Newly Styled

POPULAR SIX, JUST ANNOUNCED, HAS HOOD LINES OF UNBROKEN SIMPLICITY.—The Oldsmobile Six for 1938 continues the stylish front-end treatment it pioneered last year. The radiator grille is of new design, while a new type of concealed louvre permits smarter tailoring of the hood lines. The new car has many mechanical refinements. Above is shown the sedan with trunk. Below, a view of the front end, with two new accessories: Left, a visor sun screen, and right, a visor vanity mirror.

LOTS OF MILK IS BEST RULE

ROCHESTER, N.Y.—To attain an adequate amount of calcium for bone building, children need only a pint of milk a day, not a quart as has been sometimes claimed. This is the verdict of a study by five University of Illinois scientists, presented in a report to the chemists' convention here. More milk would be needed by a child who has been underfed or improperly fed, however, they emphasized, in order to make up for past deficiency.

The verdict, Miss Julia Out-house, one of the five scientists, explained, is based on how much calcium a child can absorb in order to build its bones and its teeth. Other food requirements which a larger milk supply would fill can be obtained from other than milk sources.

Five little girls, ranging between three and a half and five years of age, were used in the experiment. The average daily calcium requirement was found to be seven milligrams per kilogram of body weight, or 114 milligrams altogether for the average child, whose weight was 6.5 kilograms (a little more than 36 pounds). This much calcium would be absorbed from one pint of milk a day, the researchers pointed out.

Because most parents would not know clearly and safely that their children did receive already a sufficient amount of calcium, it is probable that a standard quart of milk, daily, might well be the best rule for the layman. This was the unofficial comment of scientists who heard the Illinois report.

Three in Contest For Nomination

A three-way contest for the Conservative nomination was indicated today as Victoria Conservatives prepared to gather at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium tonight at 8 to choose a candidate for the federal by-election.

W. H. M. Haldane, R. D. Harvey and Bruce A. McKelvie will go before the convention as prospective nominees. The successful nominee will go into the official lists against Robert W. Mayhew, Liberal, and J. King Gordon, C.C.F. R. L. Maitland, K.C., M.P.P., will be the chief speaker, and R. A. Wootton will preside.

Simple Measures Control Cholera

WASHINGTON—Cholera knows no military or racial barriers, as the Japanese troops in the Shanghai area are apparently now learning to their cost. Hygienic measures are the only barriers that can check its advance. These measures are simple enough to apply under ordinary conditions. Boil all drinking water and cook all food thoroughly. Be careful that the boiled water, in the interval between boiling and drinking, is kept in clean containers—untouched by flies, hands or anything else that might have cholera germs on them. The same applies to food.

In the melee of fighting around Shanghai it has probably been impossible for Japanese military authorities to enforce these measures for their troops. There is no need to suggest that the Chinese have resorted to "germ warfare" to explain the present cholera outbreak among the Japanese soldiers. An outbreak of the disease among the civilian Chinese and foreign population was reported from Shanghai at the end of August. Strictest supervision of food and water would be necessary under such conditions, to prevent the spread of the disease across the lines into the Japanese army.

Cholera is caused by a microscopic organism, looking like a curved rod and called a vibrio. It is a highly fatal disease, common to the east, spread by contamination of food and water with the vibrio from excreta of cholera patients. Anti-cholera vaccine gives protection against the disease for a short time, and is generally used in emergencies such as the present one.

RECENT WEDDINGS

ATKINS—WATT

A profusion of autumn flowers was arranged at the home of the bridegroom's mother for the wedding of Mary Jane, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Watt, East Saanich Road, Royal Oak, and Mr. William James Atkins, only son of Mrs. M. J. Atkins and the late Mr. Atkins of 175 Bushby Street, Victoria, which took place Saturday evening at 8:30.

Mr. H. L. Hopkins performed the ceremony. The bride and groom were unattended and stood beneath a large white wedding veil, with tall baskets of pink and white chrysanthemums on each side. Mr. James Eddie played the wedding march and during the signing of the register Mr. Eddie sang "Until."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of pale blue satin-back-crepe, with a short, puffed-sleeved bolero-jacket. She wore a coronet of silver leaves and orange blossoms, with blue lace mittens and carried a bouquet of rosebuds and white chrysanthemums, with a horseshoe of blue forget-me-nots and orange blossoms beneath.

A buffet supper was served from a table covered with a lace and linen cloth, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, and flanked with two tall pink tapers in silver holders and silver vases with pink and white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a gown of Marina blue velvet, with wine accessories, and Mrs. Atkins, Sr. wore a gown of black corded silk with gold trimmings and black accessories. Both wore corsage bouquets of pink rosebuds and pink and white heather. The young couple left on the midnight boat for the mainland, the bride traveling in a coral crepe dress trimmed with brown ribbon velvet, a brown coat with squirrel collar, brown accessories and hat to match with short veil. On their return they will reside on East Saanich Road, Royal Oak.

MACDONALD—BIRD

The marriage took place at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., Pemberton Road, Saturday night at 8 o'clock of Catherine Emily, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bird, 2527 Victor Street, and Mr. Hector Murdoch MacDonald, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. MacDonald, 1771 Pembroke Street.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a frock of mauve satin with shirred bodice and short shirred sleeves, a white halo hat, white shoes and lace mitts and carried a bouquet of large mauve chrysanthemums. She was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Miss Bessie MacDonald, dressed in pale green organdy with green lace mitts and wore a floral wreath in her hair. Her bouquet was of pale pink and white chrysanthemums. Mr. Edward Anderson was best man.

A largely-attended reception was held later at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. Burgess, 1405 Grant Street. The reception rooms were decorated in pale pink and mauve, tiny silver wedding bells and baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and pink cosmos were used throughout the rooms. The three-tier bride's cake surmounted by a dainty ornament of orange blossoms and lilies of the valley, stood on a small table covered with a lace cloth.

The guests were received by Mrs. Bird, dressed in blue crepe and blue velvet hat, and Mrs. MacDonald who wore blue georgette with accessories to match. They both wore corsage bouquets of pale pink carnations and rosebuds.

After a honeymoon in the States, the bride and groom will reside at 2532 Government Street. The bride's traveling costume was a red cloth dress, black caracul coat and black velvet hat to match. Among the many beautiful gifts were a silver casserole from the staff of the Royal Jubilee Hospital where the bride had been employed, and a silver coffee service and tray from the associates of the bridegroom on the engineering staff of the Prince's Marguerite.

Local Man Weds On Mainland

Mr. Arthur Morton Married To Miss Helen Fairley

The marriage of Helen Essy, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ault Fairley, Vancouver, to Arthur Samuel, only son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Morton of Victoria, took place at Knox United Church, Vancouver, on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. A. F. Munro officiating. Chrysanthemums matching in tones the gowns of the bride's attendants formed a colorful background for the ceremony. White chrysanthemums and satin bows marked the guest pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown fashioned in Empire style, the softly-draped bodice featured a V-neckline and long sleeves, tapering to points over the hands. Self-covered buttons marked the long back panel which ended in a short graceful train. Her net veil fell softly from a coronet of tiny pleatings of the net. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

Autumn tones in velvet were chosen by the bride's two attendants, her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. J. Fairley as matron of honor choosing rust and Miss Muriel Goode, bridesmaid, gold. Their gowns, made alike, were also in the Empire mode, featuring short, puffed sleeves and long, graceful skirts, with halo hats to tone. They carried chrysanthemums in tones of peach, rust and gold.

Mr. J. J. Fairley, brother of the bride, was best man, and ushering were Mr. Laurie McHugh and Mr. Millo Winram. Miss Alice Rowe sang "O Perfect Love."

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. J. A. Fairley were a smart-gown of black crepe with a black felt hat and corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Morton chose lace in a soft deep blue shade, worn with a jacket and black velvet hat and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride's table, with its three-tiered cake, was centred with pale pink chrysanthemums and tall ivory tapers. Mrs. John Gough of Victoria, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Hunter Wells, poured.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Morton left by motor for a trip south and then east to Oliver where they will make their home. For traveling the bride wore a smart Vogue model black wool dress with black velvet collar and buttons and black velvet hat with seal trimming and a seal topcoat.

Other out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John Gough, Mrs. Hugh McCallum, Mrs. Sleevright, Mrs. J. E. Barnett and Miss Joan C. Pinhorn, all of Victoria; Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Stansburg, of Seattle, and Miss Nina Jackson of Princeton.

Descendants Of Pioneers Marry

Miss Bessie Turgoose Is Bride of Mr. Moran J. Brethour

Two of the oldest pioneer families of Saanich were united by the wedding which took place at St. Stephen's Church, Mount Newton, on Friday evening at 8:30 between Bessie Patricia, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turgoose, 733 Oliver Street, Victoria, and Moran Julius Brethour, only son of Mrs. Marian Brethour and the late George Brethour of Sidney.

Rev. J. S. A. Bastin officiated, and the church was attractively decorated for the happy occasion with autumn flowers and foliage.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a radiant figure in her simple floor length frock of pale blue brocade, with short veil held in place with a coronet of silver leaves. Her bouquet was of snapdragons and pink roses.

Miss Loretta Pope, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant, wearing a graceful full-skirted dress of peach taffeta with silver leaves in her hair, and carrying a bouquet of deep pink chrysanthemums.

Mr. Gordon Douglas of Courtenay was groomsmen, and Mr. Peter Turgoose and Mr. S. Cochran were the ushers.

After the ceremony, a largely attended reception was held at the Pioneer Log Cabin at Saanichton, which both the bride's and bridegroom's families helped to build and where many articles from the pioneer homes of both families are now preserved.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Fred Turgoose dressed in mauve printed chiffon with a corsage of pink carnations, and Mrs. Marian Brethour in dark green figured crepe with a matching corsage bouquet.

The three-tiered wedding cake which centred the bride's table was of more than ordinary interest in that the ornament which topped it was used more than 30 years ago at the wedding of Mrs. James Stewart, the bride's aunt.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. H. O'Day of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Pope, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pope, Mr. James Sutherland and Miss D. Green, all of Duncan.

The young couple left for a honeymoon in Seattle. On their return they will reside in Sidney.

Are Married For Fifty Years

There are six children: Edrie D. Macfarlane, Vancouver; Mrs. James Moreton, Calgary; Athol H. Macfarlane, Vancouver; Mrs. Loris V. Fraser, Victoria; David C. Macfarlane, Nanaimo; Mrs. George Zala, Victoria, and eight grandchildren.

Due to Mrs. Macfarlane's ill health there will be no reception or formal celebration.

U.S. Bars Out Canadian Nurses

Immigration Head Says U.S. Complaints Just

NEW YORK (AP) — James Houghteling, United States immigration commissioner, in a letter made public at the week-end by the National Nurses' Association, said immediate steps would be taken to prevent the further entry of job-seeking Canadian nurses into the United States. The association recently protested to Labor Secretary Frances P. Perkins against what it called the "wholesale importation" of Canadian nurses to hospitals in New York state and elsewhere "to the detriment of qualified graduate American nurses in New York and the entire United States."

The protest was referred to Houghteling, who replied: "I have been examining the records and am inclined to agree with you that the courtesy we have been extending to this class of Canadian visitor has been overdone."

"I am therefore issuing instructions to our officers on the Canadian border that while Canadian nurses may be admitted on visitors' permits for ordinary visits on cases which require temporary entry into the United States, visitors' permits shall no longer be issued for the purpose of enabling Canadian nurses to come into this country to take jobs here."

RECENT WEDDINGS

WALKER-ROSS

St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, was decorated with baskets of huge yellow chrysanthemums for the quiet wedding on Saturday afternoon of Elaine Winona, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Ross, Oliver Street, and Mr. Cedric William Walker, elder son of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Walker, Blenkinsop Road.

Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiated. Mr. F. T. C. Wickett played the wedding marches and during the signing of the register Miss Patsy Swift sang "O Promise Me."

Mr. Ross gave his daughter in marriage. She was gown in ivory satin, with a brief train, the bodice having a V-neck and long sleeves fitted at the wrists. Her filmy net veil, a family heirloom, was embroidered with orange blossoms and arranged beneath a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Ruth Windau, the only bridesmaid, wore a frock of pale blue taffeta and net, with bouffant skirt and short puff sleeves, an off-the-face hat of blue, trimmed with pink and blue flowers at the back, and she carried a Colonial posy of blending flowers. The bridegroom's brother, Mr. Basil Walker, was best man.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Moore, 1601 Ross Street, the bride and groom standing in a bay window in the drawing-room between pedestals surmounted with vases of golden chrysanthemums and pink roses, illuminated with cluster candle lights.

Mrs. Ross was gown in black, crepe and cut-velvet, and wore a small black hat and a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses, and Mrs. Walker was in black velvet and hat en suite, and wore a corsage spray of pink roses and carnations. Assisting them was Mrs. Moore, wearing midnight blue velvet with a matching hat and navy blue accessories. She wore a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses.

The tea-table was centred with the bride's cake, standing between cream tapers and vases of pink rosebuds and trailing smiles.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker left for a honeymoon in Seattle, en route for Kamloops where they will make their home. The bride traveled in a rust-ensemble of satin and crepe trimmed with brown squirrel, and a matching hat with a squirrel mount, worn with a brown fur coat.

CARVER-WHITE

On Saturday at 8 the Rev. Thomas H. McAllister united in marriage Helen Angela White, eldest daughter of the late Hon. C. W. Fisher and Mrs. Fisher, Beach Drive, and Leslie V. Carver, son of Mrs. R. E. Carver, Oak Bay.

The bride looked charming in an autumn brown figured dress with brown hat and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. She donned a brown fur-trimmed coat for traveling.

The bride was attended by Mrs. O. J. Denny wearing a frock in the new casino red shade, with black accessories and corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. The groom was attended by Mr. O. J. Denny.

After the ceremony a small reception was held at the bride's home, only immediate relatives attending.

The happy couple left for a short honeymoon in Vancouver and on their return will reside in Victoria.

SMITH-JEWELRY

The marriage was solemnized Saturday evening at 8 at St. John's Church, Canon F. A. P. Chadwick officiating, when he united in marriage Ada, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jewsbury, 2627 Rose Street, and a Campbell, youngest son of Mrs. M. Smith and the late Mr. Smith of 2519 Belmont Avenue.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a frock of rust crepe, with hat to match, and grey accessories, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. She was attended by Miss Evelyn Irvine, dressed in blue taffeta with hat to match, and a corsage of pink rosebuds. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. J. Oddy.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The guests were received by Mrs. A. Jewsbury in a becoming gown of rust crepe with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Smith being unable to attend. A buffet supper was served from a table centred by a three-tier wedding cake decorated by her brother, and surmounted by a tiny silver bell suspended from an arch of orange blossoms and flanked on either side with mauve tapers in Flemish copper sconces.

After a honeymoon on the mainland, for which the bride left in a suit of grey tweed with an eggshell satin blouse, and grey accessories over which she wore a rust coat trimmed with a grey fur collar, the bride and groom will make their home in James Bay. Among the many beautiful gifts received were a Chesterfield table from the employees of the Dominion Theatre, where the bride was formerly employed, and a Fungshan's mantel clock, from the staff of the Motor House, where the groom is employed.

Two Women In Vancouver Hurt

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two women were taken to hospitals with injuries suffered when they were knocked down by automobiles in separate accidents here Sunday night.

Most seriously hurt was Mrs. G. L. Stone, 73, who suffered fractures of both legs and shock when she was struck by an automobile in the Shaughnessy Heights residential section.

Miss Frances McPhie received minor injuries when knocked down by a car in the Kitsilano district.

Chrysanthemum Tea at Hotel

On Saturday next, November 13, the annual chrysanthemum tea will be held at the Empress Hotel. After months of care outdoors, several weeks ago head gardener Saunders and his assistants brought into conservatory and glasshouses hundreds of chrysanthemums which will be on show.

Among those recently added to the Empress collection are Garnet King, a red with gold reverse, aptly named Armistice Day; an improvement on the Marjory Woolman, pale bronze in color, which the head gardener calls the Empress; a shaggy Jap, deep bronze, known as Joseph Bradford; May Wallace, an apricot; Henry Trueman, a shaggy white, and Mrs. T. Slack, also a bronze.

The tea will be held again this year in the ballroom. A special programme of music, under the direction of William Tickle, will include "Voices at Spring" (Strauss), "Musical Gems" (Tschakowsky), "Romber's Blossom Time," "Czardas" (Monty), "London Suite" (Eric Coates).

Last year over 600 booked tables for the event, and those wishing to reserve this year are asked to phone the head waiter as early as possible.

Lake Hill Community Centre will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at 7.30 sharp.

Large Attendance at Annual Remembrance Day Worship at Cathedral

Inclement weather yesterday had little effect on the attendance at the annual Remembrance Day service in Christ Church Cathedral, in which various clergymen of the city, with provincial and civic dignitaries took part.

Among the visitors at the service were Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, Premier Pattullo and members of his cabinet, with Mayor Andrew McGavin and members of the City Council and their wives.

Rev. Alan Gardiner presided over the service and opened it with the reading of prayers. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson read the lesson and the address was given by Canon S. J. Wickens. Bishop H. E. Sexton asked the blessing.

The "Last Post" and "Reveille" were sounded by A. B. Drysdale, of the Rainbow Sea Cadets.

Before the opening of the service, colors of the following organizations were received by the local clergy, the standard bearers parading up the centre aisle and depositing them for the service: Rainbow Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Army and Navy Veterans, Naval Veterans and the District Council of the Canadian Legion.

Hymns sung during the service were: "O God Our Help in Ages Past," "God of Our Fathers," and "O Valiant Hearts." The service closed with the singing of "God Save the King."

Lodge No. 83 Order Daughters of St. George met recently in the Sons of England, with W. P. Sister Nunn in the chair. Visitors from Lodge 238 were welcomed. The Past District Deputy Sister Jane was presented with a beautiful silver cake basket for her services. Sister Nunn making the presentation. The recipient replied, thanking the sisters for their kindness during her term of office. Members are asked to be at the hall on November 12 at 2 p.m. and to bring their donations for the bazaar.

The L. H. Hardie Circle will hold a chrysanthemum tea on Wednesday, November 10, in the King's Daughters' rooms, Hibbone Building. Those pouring tea will be Mrs. A. M. Perry, Mrs. J. Stewart, Mrs. L. H. Hardie and Miss K. Roberts.

TELEVISION IS SEEN ON LINER

British Vessel Receives
Clear Pictures at Sea
From London

NEW YORK (AP)—Successful reception of television broadcasts by a liner at sea was reported today by Captain A. T. Brown of the Cunard-White Star liner Britannic.

Captain Brown said the experiments, believed the first of their kind ever attempted, were performed October 29, 30 and 31 after the ship sailed from London.

The experiments were conducted by engineers of the British Broadcasting Corporation, who set up their receiving equipment in a vacant cabin. Captain Brown said the Britannic, until it left the English Channel, was never more than 30 miles off shore.

The pictures were extraordinarily clear, and the sound was perfect, he said. "They broadcast a special programme from Alexandra Palace, in London, and the reception on the ship seemed excellent."

"The pictures were reproduced on a screen about 10x12 inches. It was as distinct as if they'd been sending it from the next cabin."

Held Debate On Street Car Issue

The Catholic Youth Organization of St. Andrew's Cathedral recently held its first debate of the season. "Resolved, that a system of bus transportation be adopted in place of our present street railway" was the title of the argument, the affirmative of which was upheld by Frances Cownden and John Grant, the negative being supported by Betty Fogden and "Mike" Kelpin. Each speaker ably presented his argument, but the judges, James Grant, Robert Holley and George Murtagh gave their decision in favor of those upholding the negative. The chairman for the evening was Herbert Bourne.

Following the debate, refreshments were served under the direction of Lucille and "Mickey" Webb. The evening finished with an hour's discussion of the Sino-Japanese conflict.

The regular monthly business meeting of St. Andrew's C.Y.O. will be held Tuesday evening, when reports from the various chairmen will be read and future plans decided upon.

STORIES IN STAMPS

WHERE WASHINGTON
OUTMOVED BRITAIN

Sensing British strategy, Gen. George Washington in October, 1776, withdrew his forces from the north end of Manhattan and concentrated them in the much stronger position near White Plains, N.Y.

Capt. Nathan Hale had just been captured on Manhattan Island, while seeking information within the British lines, and had been executed as a spy.

On the 28th, General Howe advanced to Washington's position and found the Americans strongly entrenched and quite equal in numbers. He hesitated, doubted and, finally, spurred on to do something, sent 4,000 men to storm Chatterton's Hill. After a sharp, short action, some 1,600 Americans retreated to the main army, having lost only half as many men as the British.

Encouraged, Howe then sent for reinforcements and waited two days. The third it rained, and the next, when Howe finally moved, he found Washington had withdrawn to a higher and quite impregnable position. Here Washington held all the passes and awaited attack. Howe studied the picture for two or three days longer and then withdrew without a shot to Dobb's Ferry, a wasted manoeuvre. The so-called battle of White Plains is commemorated by a 1926 U.S. stamp.

VACCINATION UNDER FIRE

Vivisection Also Criticized
By Dr. E. P. Frewster

Vivisection and vaccination were roundly criticized by Dr. Ernest P. Frewster, Vancouver, before the Victoria Anti-vivisection Society at the Y.W.C.A. Saturday night.

He attacked universities for their activities in the field, declaring such experimentation was being carried on "not so much for the knowledge useful to humanity, but for the benefit of a few idle professors who hope, some day, to get their names in the papers or a raise in pay."

Virtually all of the discoveries of value had come from private endeavor, not from institutions, he said, adding "about all we get from institutions is a lot of sick mice."

Dr. Frewster declared "half the doctors did not believe in vaccination, but practiced it to meet the public demand." He termed it "filthy and out of keeping with all surgical discovery."

David Leeming occupied the chair. Kathleen Lavell, soprano, was soloist, accompanied by Ethel James.

Record Voters' List Compiled

More persons are eligible to vote in the forthcoming Victoria federal by-election, November 29, than ever before.

John L. Clay, registrar of voters, announced that 30,408 persons have been registered on the lists compiled in the last 10 days. This exceeds by 1,713 the total on the list for the 1935 general election. The names of 187 were added by courts of revision sitting at the end of last week.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Members of the Malahat Branch, Canadian Legion, met at Cobble Hill, Comrade J. B. Bell presiding. The annual veterans' dinner will be held in the S.L.A.A. Hall, November 12. A committee, comprising Comrades J. C. Rathbone, G. G. Orr, H. P. Webber and A. I. Dyson, were delegated to arrange for entertainment.

The South Cowichan Dramatic Club, sponsored by the legion, will stage a show at the Lake on December 14.

The next meeting of the legion will take place at Shawnigan Lake, when nominations for the executive for the coming year will be dealt with.

The W.A. to the legion held their monthly meeting, with Mrs. G. G. Orr presiding.

The monthly meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Women's Institute was held at "Rosedale Inn," the residence of Mr. F. M. Winters. The president, Mrs. A. Layton, occupied the chair.

Letters to the Editor

HEALTH DRIVE LESSONS

To the Editor:—The official Health Week being over for 1937, may one interested in all that promotes health give his opinion on the need for further increase in public interest in health matters. As yet what we have not succeeded in doing is to ensure that all health services be used to the full. There seems to be many people who are unaware of the benefits they might obtain for themselves and for their children if they would only stretch forth their hands to take what is offered them. Great and praiseworthy efforts have been made to spread the knowledge of what they are doing, but I believe something more is called for at this time. Something in the nature of a national campaign with all the publicity that can be achieved by an organized attack by government, local authorities, doctors, teachers and the press, all working together for the same end, the building up of a better and fitter Victoria and Canada.

ALFRED BLAND.

NOTHING BUT PRAISE

To the Editor:—Referring to letters about the Public Library, the writers may not realize that many prominent people have admitted that there is much to admire in Russia. For instance, the leading British authority on public health and preventive medicine, Sir Arthur Newsholme, K.C.B., M.D., makes the following statement in his book, "Red Medicine":

"What Russia has accomplished in its courageously original schemes for the health and social wellbeing of its people constitutes a challenge to other countries."

The Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, D.D., noted New York clergyman, said:

"What if in the end these atheists in Russia should turn out to care more for building a better social order than we Christians in America do? That is the moral crux of the competition between us."

The Archbishop of Canterbury said:

"Bolshevik Russia is the only country which is today inspired by a living faith."

Young, mighty Russia is experimenting—experiments have us the electric light. In a few months single-engine bombers will be made in Moscow in mass production under American inspiration. Russia is trying out a planned economy (not unplanned like ours with booms, depressions, unemployment, poverty in the midst of plenty).

In place of prejudice, it is scientific to understand every possible viewpoint of a problem, as a Supreme Court judge does before summing up. The suppression of information makes correct judgment impossible, which is now being proven in Germany. When we see a Marketing

Board interfering with supply and demand, the United States paying farmers not to produce, followed by soaring food prices, grain burned on the prairies because cheaper than fuel, followed by drought, millions of bags of coffee destroyed to keep the price up, why, it is only common sense to wonder if destruction of foods, forced unemployment and doles to produce prosperity is the best that may be accomplished.

In common honesty, I must say I have nothing but praise for the way first class information concerning all sides of subjects, Social Credit Planning, Communist Planning, and other Planned Economics is always courteously provided at the library, and I have been a constant reader since 1927.

WORLD'S MOST GLORIOUS HOPE

To the Editor:—A letter from E. W. Abraham, with reference to what the Rev. Mr. Orr is supposed to have said in the Empire Theatre on Sunday, October 10, stated that Mr. Orr had put forward the suggestion that British-Israel believers should start their own church for the spread of their beliefs.

It is amazing how people rush into print with no regard whatever for the facts of the case. One would not have supposed that it was necessary—in speaking to a congregation that was in no wise connected with the British-Israel Federation—for Mr. Orr to preface his address with the remark that he was not to be understood as taking it upon himself to suggest the course to be taken by an organization with which neither he nor the vast majority of his 800 hearers were in affiliation.

The fact of the matter is that in answering the question propounded, Mr. Orr definitely deprecated the idea that they should—stated indeed that it was too late even to consider such a suggestion.

Indeed, we should have said that he rather specially emphasized the point of his disagreement with the proposal—at least at this stage—when he stated that it is only three years ago since he had the truth of the gospel of the kingdom brought to him. Considering that, Mr. Orr added that he would be loathe to see withdrawal from the church of British-Israel members, when he felt that by continued allegiance to their respective denominations still more recruits might be brought to a recognition of British-Israel doctrine.

Surely it is high time that it be made clear to those who do not appear to understand it, that no little sectionalized groups constitute the whole body of those who accept the Bible covenant with Israel as meaning precisely what they say; and who believe that the promise of the Lord Jesus Christ to return to earth and take its government upon His shoulders is the most glorious hope that this world affords. This, too, has to be said—and it is said with regret: It is precisely the spirit indicated in this letter, and kindred utterances, and attitudes which have been adopted exhibiting the same spirit, that is determining many people to hold themselves aloof, and remain outside of these local organizations—in spite of their desire to strengthen the hand of the great British-Israel World Federation, to which each one of us is so deeply indebted.

NOW that John Montague is looking for cameras in place of running away from them, what about his golf game? What do the professionals think of him?

Taking all those fantastic yarns out of Hollywood at their face value, you would suspect that the money players would be running for cover. Did not supposedly competent critics say that Montague could outdrive Jimmy Thomson and outputt Horton Smith? As a matter of fact, P. Hat-Sims, quite a golfer in his own right, asserted that the erstwhile phantom of the fairways seldom putted, so perfect were his approaches.

But the professionals refuse to be stampeded. Indeed, those among them who know and like the charming fellow advise him to remain mysterious in golf while and if it is possible for him to further capitalize on the Montague myth.

"Wasn't it rather ridiculous—that Paul Bunyan business some of the reporters fell for head over heels?" asks Horton Smith. "Has a Montague proved his ability as a golfer? Not by my idea of a test. Has he beaten the top-notch pros? I've seen Montague play and I've seen better. He's good, all right. He has pretty good form—better than I expected—and power."

"It was not the rave reviews of his trick shots—it was those about his golf game that got me. It's one thing to shoot hot rounds when they mean nothing. It's another thing when you're under pressure. Wait until you see what Montague can do against top-notchers when the chips are down before you go wild about him. Montague, in my opinion, is not the super-golfer."

Montague isn't even the super-trickshotter, according to both Smith and Harry Cooper. Along that line, they contend that the squatty man so widely belittled as the Goliath of Golf cannot touch Joe Kirkwood.

Montague is no stranger to many of the professionals. A few of them knew who he was all the time. Those who met him and did not know his identity, respected the fact that his private career, if any, rightfully belonged to himself. They sensed that there was an unmentionable chapter or two in his past.

That is the most amazing thing about the fantastic Montague story—how the wild, and to put it mildly, sometimes careless young man from upper New York state could so successfully masquerade for seven years. The development of both himself and the fabulous tales built around him are explainable, although such stories could come only from Hollywood.

Montague virtually grew up on golf courses, and, in 1928, when he was 21, served briefly as a professional at Clayton, N.Y., and later at Thendara in the Adirondacks.

But in Hollywood nothing was said about Gene Sarazen playing (Turn to Page 17, Col. 2)

Patrick's Club Whips Champions By Three Goals

New York Hockey Squad Shows Power in Making N.H.L. Debut Youngsters Star

Two years of playing second fiddle to hockey's world champions has done something to New York Rangers and Boston Bruins. As a new National League season begins they have amassed power and determination that may tear down the dominance of Detroit's haughty Red Wings.

Mindful of the beating they took from Red Wings in Stanley Cup finals last spring, Lester Patrick's young Rangers bounded into Detroit with fine impudence last night and whipped the champions 3 to 0. That startling result came on the heels of Boston's show of strength in defeating the Maroons 4 to 2 at Montreal Saturday.

The developments left the two winners tied for first place in the United States division after their first starts, a point ahead of Red Wings, who gained a tie in the opener at Toronto Thursday.

The week-end's other game, bringing Maple Leafs a 6 to 3 victory over New York Americans at Toronto Saturday, placed the Leafs squarely in first place in the Canadian section. Their support was heightened in that Americans' closest rivals through a first-game victory, but the divisional champion Montreal Canadiens will not start the season until tomorrow, when they play Chicago at Montreal.

HIGH SCORERS
Two youngsters whose stars began a rapid ascent last season were the week-end's big scorers. Elond Ray Gettiffe got Bruins' first three goals against Maroons and Gordon Drillon hung up three of Leafs' first four scores in quelling Americans.

Rangers' achievement, on the other hand, was one of all-around might. Two of the three forward lines got goals and the other was contributed by Butch Keeling, the old pinch-hitter who is being used as a spare forward.

Lester Patrick's fleet force had an edge in skating and passing. Late in the third period both Joe Cooper and Ott Heller were penalized for holding, but goalie Dave Kerr did a two-minute stretch of miracle making while Detroit tried to take advantage of the edge in man-power.

Keeling got the goal that was good enough to win less than a minute before the end of the first period with Lynn Patrick and Mac Colville assisting. Then, as Red Wings tried to bear down in the final chapter, Rangers more than kept pace, and Cecil Dillon tallied with the aid of Phil Watson, and Alex Shibicky (Turn to Page 17, Col. 7)

Calgarians Beat Winnipeg Bombers 13 to 10 in First of Rugby Series

WINNIPEG—On the wings of two beautiful touchdowns passes Calgary Bombers soared Saturday to a three-point lead in the two-game, Western Canada football championship playoff, defeating Winnipeg Blue Bombers 13 to 10 in the total-point series opener.

Bombers, who finished two points ahead of Bombers in the Western Interprovincial Union standing, carry the three-points into the deciding game in Calgary Thursday, Armistice Day. Other western leagues did not enter the playoffs.

Outplayed on the ground, where Bombers made 12 first downs to five and gained 188 yards rushing to Bombers' 107, Carl Cronin's great machine showed more finesse in scoring position and rose to defensive heights to stop a fighting last-quarter march by Bombers. Five thousand saw the game played under excellent conditions.

Each team scored first-period singles but bury Bob Fritz led a

Armstrong Gets Set to Make the Kill

The determined look on the face of Henry Armstrong, California negro, makes it plain he means to finish the weary but courageous Petey Sarron with the powerful left-hook, half-swing he is about to deliver to the chin. Armstrong earned a clear right to the world featherweight title by knocking out Sarron in the sixth round of a savage battle in Madison Square Garden, New York. Watt and Holness Are Soccer Stars

Lead Victoria West and Esquimalt to Victory in First Division Matches

John Watt and Harry Holness carried off the lion's share of the glory in Saturday's first division football matches, with two brilliant individual scoring performances. Watt, veteran centre-forward, piled through for five goals as he led the league-leading, undefeated Victoria West to a 5 to 2 victory over the Saanich Thistles at Heywood Avenue, and Holness, pint-sized winger, contributed the three goals as Esquimalt sprung a surprise packet on Victoria City in the form of a 3 to 2 setback, at the Athletic Park.

The league standings find the Wests firmly entrenched in first place with eight points, four more than the Thistles, runners-up. The City and Garrison are tied for third with three points each, while Esquimalt bring up the rear with two.

Three minutes after the opening whistle Watt drove home his first goal. The Thistles carried play for several minutes and McCaig, Coster and Speller all missed good scoring chances. The Wests claimed a goal on a shot by George Barnes, but the referee, waved play on. Watt made it 2 to 0 halfway through the period. (Turn to Page 17, Col. 7)

Forty-one Grilse Caught in Inlet

"It was a grand time we had," said Tommy Rickinson this morning when reporting the success he and George "Joker" Patton enjoyed yesterday fishing for grilse in Saanich Inlet. They reeled in 41 of these small but sporty fish and topped the day off by hooking a fine spring salmon. They caught the grilse between Bamberton and Seamus Island.

Wanderers In Win Over Navy Ruggers

Whip Sailors 14 to 0 in Latter's First Game of the Season

George Warnock's Oak Bay Wanderers crept temporarily into top berth with the J.B.A.A. on Saturday following the former's 14 to 0 win over a hard-tackling but badly organized Navy fifteen in the feature rugby match of the day at Macdonald Park.

The Navy has yet to play the oarsmen and on the strength of that the Wanderers' joint top position is a shaky one at the present time.

Using the wind and sun to considerable advantage, the Oak Bay ruggers ran up a 6-point lead in the opening session with a couple of free kicks made good by full-back Jack Grogan. The second half saw the Wanderers add another eight points on tries by Groff Murdoch and Ronnie McCann, and a convert by Grogan.

Although they were defeated, the Navy proved to be a hardy bunch in their first game of the season. Their tackling was the feature of the day's defensive play and contrasted greatly with the Wanderers' tight ball-passing attacks.

Harry Barber, Wanderers' three-quarter, was forced from the field with a bruised left wrist early in the second half.

E. J. Symons refereed, and the teams were: Wanderers—Grogan; Carney, B. Murdoch, Barber, Brown, McCann, G. Murdoch, Acland, Buckler, Moore, Thompson, Colthurst, McGregor, Forbes and Gornall.

Large Entry For Ping-pong Meet

Local table tennis titles will be at stake November 11, 12 and 13, when the Victoria Table Tennis Association will stage its annual closed city tournament. Entries close November 9.

Entries may be left at club quarters or with Secretary Laurie Greenwood at E 3049.

Scores Basket and Free Throw to Beat Seattle Alpines 37 to 34

It was elongated Hank Rowe, the young local front-line star, who came through in the crucial moments Saturday night at the High School gym to contribute the extra three points that gave the Victoria Dominoes their 37 to 34 victory over Chuck Durgan's Seattle Alpine Dairy squad.

One of the best crowds of the season—700 strong—turned out for the fray which at the outset had the earmarks of being a push-over for the Dominoes, but eventually developed into a nip-and-tuck duel that made the locals undefeated record look in danger during the closing stages. The result marked the Dominoes fourth straight win.

Big Moose Rogin, the new member of Victoria's basketball team, flashed his best form Saturday night and led his team to victory with a total of 14 points to his credit. The same total was secured by Chuck Wagner, flashy Seattle guard, who also turned in a sterling performance. Hank Rowe and Art Chapman were runners-up in the scoring for Victoria with seven points apiece, while Bob Egge and Bill Murphy of the Seattle team got half-a-dozen.

DOMINOES SHINE

Like a well-oiled machine that was pretty to watch, the Dominoes went into action as the game opened and engineered a withering, prolonged fire on the Seattle hoop. For 15 minutes they kept up their attack, and were leading 18 to 2 before Seattle recovered from the shock and began to make an impression on the scoreboard, but were still 12 points behind at the breather. The score stood 23 to 11.

After the change of ends the Seattle boys started off in a determined manner and marked up five points without a return. At this point the Dominoes crept farther ahead and at the five-minute mark of the half were in front 27 to 18. Then Durgan's hoopers got away on a fine scoring spree that advanced them to within three points of Victoria, Egge, Wagner and Murphy each tallying two-pointers.

Rogin's basket and Art Chapman's free throw pulled the locals out of immediate danger, but a line-throw and a field goal by Cairney and Werner, respectively, put the Seattle team back in the lead. (Turn to Page 17, Col. 3)

English Schools

Public schools in England are private—that is, they are not open to everyone. A high tuition charge is made for students who attend them. It runs from 100 to 150 pounds per school year, or from $500 to $750 in our money.

Eton school boys at roll call

Eton, Rugby, Harrow, Aldenham, Uppingham and Workson are among the famous public schools. The boys who go to them are from 13 to 19 years of age, and for the most part are sons of wealthy families. Some public schools date back more than 500 years.

What we may call the true public schools of England are known as "council schools." They are so-called because the local council votes the money to run them. Children—both boys and girls—go to them without charge.

A child may enter a council school at the age of five. He is said to be a member of the "infant department" until he is seven.

Free education is supplied to boys and girls in England until they are 14 years of age. Then, if they go to higher schools, their parents must pay. There is so much cost that most families cannot afford it.

A few bright children win "scholarships" and are able to go to a high school without paying for tuition. There are not enough scholarships, however, and only about one person in 100 can win one.

In Stratford-on-Avon, I paid a visit to my old friend, Mr. Glover, who is headmaster of the Council Central school. He is a kindly man, and works hard to give his pupils a good start in life. In speaking to his pupils, he tells them how important it is for the world to be at peace.

"It is a mistake," he says, "to suppose that any nation has been 'right in every war.' Usually there is some right, and some wrong, on both sides."

Mr. Glover invited me to speak to an assembly of his pupils, and I was very glad to do so. For the most part, I answered questions which the pupils (and one or two of the teachers) asked. Among the things I talked about were the railroads of Canada, the skyscrapers of New York, and the stars of Hollywood.

The boys seemed much interested in Hollywood. A great number of the films shown in England are made in the United States.

Outside school, English boys and girls play cricket, football and other games. Sometimes they go to a theatre, or watch an outdoor entertainment, as a Punch and Judy show.

This Alone Assures Safety

LISTEN, FATHERS AND MOTHERS, to this absolutely true tale. A man died leaving his wife a comfortable fortune. He had already given each of his 11 children a nice home and a good start in life, but, nevertheless, no sooner had the will been read than they began grabbing with greedy hands at mother's inheritance.

"Dear Mother," they said, "you can't live alone in this big house. You will be so lonely. And managing all of this property will be such a burden to you. You really can't stand it at your age. You will leave what you have to us when you die, anyway, so divide it up amongst us now and let us take all of the work and worry off of your hands. Come and live with us. Spend a month with each of us and that will give you so much variety and change and you will enjoy your grandchildren so much."

"You can spend your winters in the south with John and Mary and your summers in New England with Tom and Sally. You can visit Lucy in California, Ruben in Florida and drop in on the balance of us for a few weeks whenever you like. You will have 11 homes instead of one and will be so much happier than you would be in this old house by yourself, now that Father has gone. You must just let us take care of you now and cheer and comfort you all we can."

The mother was loath to comply with her children's plea to turn over all her property to them. Parting with the old home to which she had gone as a bride, where her babies had been born and grown up, where she had been a happy wife for more than 40 years and where every stick of furniture was embalmed in sacred memories, was almost as much of a heart wrench as parting with her husband. Besides, she did not like the thought of impoverishing herself and being dependent even upon her children.

So she resisted their entreaties for a long time. But mothers are weak where their children are concerned. At last, by their protestations of affection and their cajoling and petting and their assurance that she would be the queen in their households and that they would struggle with each other for the pleasure of having Mother with them, she yielded.

The first month of living with the children went well enough. Mary fussed over Mother and Mother, who had kept house for so many years, found it pleasant and restful to have nothing to do. The second month at Janey's was not quite so agreeable. Mother had got tired of idleness and wanted something to do, but she found out that when she even offered a suggestion Janey called it meddling and gave her to understand where she got off.

Tom's wife gave her a frosty welcome when she went to stay with her. Bob's wife made no secret of it that she could not have come at a more inconvenient time. And then one day she accidentally overheard a number of her children squabbling over who had to take Mother next and each of them was trying to pass her on to the other. Not one of them wanted her.

In despair, the old lady went to her lawyer and told him her tale of woe. "I have found," she said, "that a mother can take care of 11 children, but 11 children cannot take care of one mother. I have too much pride to be an unwelcome guest in my children's houses, so I have come to ask you to get me in some old ladies' home."

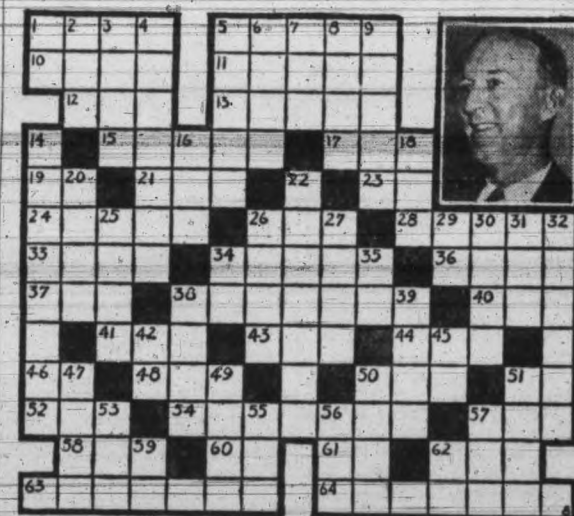

"It will not be necessary," said the lawyer, who had been her friend since childhood. "I foresaw that this would happen and so, without your children knowing it, I fixed all the deeds of transfer so that they would not have full title until after you had had a chance to try the experiment of living with them. You will get all of your property back."

The moral of all of which is that parents should hold on to their pocketbooks as long as they live. Between mother and father who have gifts to give and mother and father who have given everything away is the difference between the glad hand and the cold shoulder.

THIEVES ENTER ISLAND STORES

Sidney Drug Store and Craighflower Confectionery Report Losses

Provincial Police today investigated robberies at Sidney and on the Island Highway in which a quantity of cameras, cigarettes and cash from drug and confectionery stores was stolen.

Both thefts are believed to have occurred during the early hours of this morning.

At Sidney, Ball's drug store was entered and seven cameras, a cash register containing a small amount of loose change, and an assortment of films were taken.

At Craighflower Bridge, on the Island Highway, Pringle's store was entered overnight and thieves took approximately $40 worth of cigarettes and a slot machine. Both crimes were investigated by Sgt. Richard Harvey and Constable R. Pomeroy.

In the city two break-ins were reported over the weekend: The Northern Junk Company, Store Street, and Barber Brothers' Garage, at the lower end of Johnson Street, were entered, a loss of 17 coppers being reported from the latter. There was nothing taken from the junk company's premises.

Twice Torpedoed In Hour; Unhurt

Member of House 20 Years Ago Had Marvelous Escape From Death

Next month Capt. C. S. Leary, the chief Liberal whip in the Legislature, will celebrate the 20th anniversary of his miraculous wartime escape from death—twice torpedoed in 45 minutes, yet unscathed.

It was December 29, 1917, when Capt. Leary was aboard the transport Arragon with 3,000 British troops as it arrived outside of Alexandria, Egypt. The ship had arrived earlier than expected and was ordered to circle off the harbor while the mined entrance channel was swept by trawlers.

But the Arragon never got into Alexandria. She was hit amidships by a torpedo from a pirating German U-boat.

As she started to settle the boats were swung out, but there was room for only a few of the troops. In perfect discipline the men lined along the deck, singing "Rule, Britannia" as they waited their turn. A sudden lurch of the sinking craft threw 1,000 of them into the water.

Capt. Leary was one of the last aboard. With a pocket camera he took pictures of the sinking ship from a point of the bow. The Arragon was going down by the stern.

Finally he jumped, lifebelt in place. He swam to the destroyer Attack which had been conveying the transport. Grabbing a trailing rope he hoisted himself over the side.

As an officer he was given freedom of the deck. Other ranks were accommodated below. This may have accounted for his second escape.

Within ten minutes a thin white streak of water was seen headed for the destroyer. Her engines leaped into life and she surged forward. But not fast enough. A torpedo caught her just astern the engine room.

The Attack was cut in two. The force of the explosion blew Capt. Leary off the deck and once again he was struggling in the water. Around him were dying men, corpses and parts of bodies. For another hour he floated around until picked up by a trawler.

Revived by a stimulant, he took charge of a rescue boat from the trawler and spent another four hours picking up survivors before heading for safety in Alexandria.

Strangely enough, Capt. Leary celebrates his wedding anniversary the same day, December 29. Some of his pictures, though water-soaked, turned out.

England Safe, Says Reporter

Thomas Wayling Tells Canadian Club Rearmament Makes For Peace

"You can stop worrying about England," Thomas Wayling, newspaper reporter from the press gallery, Ottawa, told a meeting of the Canadian Club this afternoon.

"From what I saw of the navy and air force, England is safe."

Mr. Wayling told how he saw the whole sky filled with planes during the Hebdon air show and later learned that every one of these planes was piloted by youngsters who had only had six months' training.

"I think the great factor for peace in the world today is Britain's defence programme," he said. "I don't look upon it as armament, but rather as a police force."

The newspaperman said the people in Europe were sick of war talk, and declared unless something unforeseen happened in Spain there would be no general European conflict.

Disclaiming any oratorical ability, Mr. Wayling said at the beginning of his speech that he would merely spin a few yarns about his recent coronation trip to Europe.

He told of the efficiency of the British police. Not only did Scotland Yard check on criminal elements, but it did humane work in providing first aid stations. He said that 58 babies were born at these stations during the parade.

During the rehearsal of the Coronation ceremonies, Mr. Wayling got lost in the abbey and found himself sitting among the peers.

The ceremony was amazing, he said. Someone asked the Queen what she thought of during the Coronation and she said the past. The Coronation brought back to one's mind the whole history of England.

In speaking of Edward, Mr. Wayling said that he believed the Duke of Windsor could go back to England whenever he felt like it but would not because his return would give an opportunity to such people as Mosley to form a "king's party" and create a disturbance.

Col. H. T. Goodland was in the chair. Assistant Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons thanked the speaker.

MUSICAL ARTS PLANS SERIES

The Victoria Musical Art Society is making final preparations to launch a campaign to establish a branch of a permanent institution internationally known as "Community Concerts" here. While the society is sponsoring the idea, members point out it is intended to be a civic undertaking as well. At the initial meeting at the Y.W.C.A. at 8 tomorrow night, it is hoped the representatives of many organizations will be present.

At this meeting definite plans for the campaign will be made. The campaign is to be launched from November 22 to 27. It has been suggested the association secure enough members at this time to fill the Empress Hotel ballroom, and if enough interest is taken in the project a larger hall will be secured.

All the artists under the proposed plan are outstanding, but the greater the membership the higher in rank will be the artists available.

Members of the Musical Art Society will get a substantial reduction on the Community Concert series. No single tickets will be sold for any of the three concerts, as the plan is on a purely membership basis.

Musical Art Society membership tickets for 1937-38 are still on sale at the music stores, at the Empress Hotel and from members of the board of directors. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 24, in the form of a musicale and reception in honor of Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber. The programme will be based on "Humor in Music."

King Gordon Due Thursday

Dr. J. King Gordon, C.C.F. candidate in the Victoria-Federal by-election, will reach the city Thursday from the east, according to word received by local C.C.F. headquarters today. Campaign meetings for tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday have been called as a result. M. J. Coldwell, M.P. for Rosemond-Biggar, will arrive next Monday to take part in the C.C.F. campaign.

Cabinet Receives Delegation and Hears of Municipal Burdens

R. C. MacDonald, reeve of Coquitlam and president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, following a meeting this morning between union delegates and the cabinet, at which municipal problems were presented, said the delegation had been unable to secure definite information as to what assistance the municipalities might anticipate from the provincial government.

Reeve MacDonald said he pointed out to the Premier and other members of the cabinet that the province had the highest revenue in its history, while the problems of the municipalities were more acute than ever.

Harry A. Sullivan, K.C., the union's solicitor, said the Premier told the delegation the province was not necessarily waiting for the Rowel Commission to give aid to the municipalities.

Alderman James Adam asked for relief for Victoria, which had $3,500,000 in Crown lands, on which no taxes were paid. The official delegation, in addition to Mr. MacDonald and Alderman Adam was composed of William Crouch, reeve of Saanich; J. B. Leyland, reeve of West Vancouver; J. T. Brown, reeve of Surrey; Mayor J. Barsby of Nanaimo; William J. Parks, reeve of Pitt Meadows; Alex Patterson, reeve of Delta, and Harry J. Sullivan, K.C., alderman of New Westminster, and solicitor for the delegation.

Mayor McGavin of Victoria, with Aldermen T. W. Hawkins and John Worthington were observers at the meeting.

The brief presented to the cabinet stated the Union of Municipalities was not satisfied with the present financial relations between the province and municipalities and considered some immediate action was necessary, without the necessity of awaiting the report of the royal commission on federal and provincial finances.

PLEDGES NOT FULFILLED

It said taxation on land was insufficient to support the many services which the municipalities were required to render; that provincial revenues were expanding rapidly and there was no longer any excuse for the emergency procedure of 1932; that members of the present administration had made public pledges to give adequate financial aid to the municipalities and that those pledges had not yet been fulfilled.

In 1920 and 1921, the brief said, the provincial government admitted the principle of the right of the municipalities to share in certain revenues, but since that time had steadily receded from that position.

Other resolutions passed at the annual meeting of the union in Nanaimo two months ago, were also on the brief.

One asked that 100 per cent of the revenue derived from beer parlor licenses and clubs be collected and held by the municipalities.

The responsibility of relief, the brief said, was a federal matter. The brief pointed out that the average workingman at the age of 65 years could not compete in the labor market. It said the convention was in favor of the age limit for old age pensions being reduced from 70 years to 65 years and that the provincial government be requested to take up this question with the Dominion government.

The delegation presented the convention's request that the government immediately establish a public utilities commission.

MINIMUM WAGES

Another request was that the government—review the entire set-up of the minimum wage situation for agricultural labor in British Columbia.

The income tax clause of the brief said "that the provincial legislature, at its next session, be requested to enact legislation providing that in computing income tax payable to the province, any person being owner or mortgagee of improved property who pays taxes, insurance or repairs, in respect of any such land from which no revenue is derived, shall be permitted to reduce his taxable income by the amount of the said taxes, insurance and repairs so paid."

The brief also asked the government to enact legislation to regulate the present traffic in casaca bark. It pointed out casaca was a valuable tree which appeared to grow only in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon and that it was difficult to protect them from thieves who invariably destroyed them when removing bark, that the theft of bark was made principally by boys, encouraged by their parents and that exporters of the bark facilitated the thefts by buying from juveniles.

The Sir Henry Wilson Loyal Orange Lodge will hold its annual banquet in the Orange Hall tomorrow evening at 7. A short programme of variety entertainment and speeches will be the order of the evening. Rev. G. R. V. Bolster will be the guest speaker.

"Big Broadcast" Is at Columbia

Lavishly produced, tuneful, sometimes madcap and always gay, and boasting a cast which includes the top names of radio and screen, Paramount's annual tribute to the air waves, "The Big Broadcast of 1937," which opens at the Columbia Theatre today, is easily the outstanding production for this type of entertainment that has yet been filmed.

With Jack Benny in the stellar role, "The Big Broadcast of 1937," includes George Burns and Gracie
Allen, Bob Burns, Martha Raye,
Benny Goodman and his orchestra,
Shirley Ross, Ray Milland,
Frank Forest, Benny Fields, Leopold Stokowski and his symphony orchestra, and a host of others, all of whom blend perfectly into a delightful melange of music, beauty and wit.

Gloria Stuart and Edmund
Lowe appear in "The Girl on the

"Fit For a King" At Dominion

Joe E. Brown travels abroad in his latest adventure comedy, "Fit for a King," coming to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow. Fast action leads from New York into a mythical kingdom where Joe,
case as a newshawk, meets a Missouri girl destined to become a queen.

Joe starts his adventures as a reporter stowed away on a liner to track down a story. Put in the brig through the efforts of Kelly, a rival correspondent, two objectives immediately become uppermost in Joe's mind. One, revenge on Kelly; the other, a successful conclusion to his assignment.

Nino Martini in "Music for Madame," starring Joan Fontaine, is also being shown at the Dominion.

Warner Film At Atlas Theatre

The old-fashioned spelling-bee became one of the principal "between-take" diversions on the Warner Bros. lot within the last couple of months.

The back-swing of the pendulum to the amusement of a bygone decade was inspired by a strawberry festival on the set of "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air," the Kenny Baker starring vehicle which Mervyn LeRoy produced at Warner Bros. and which is now playing at the Atlas Theatre.

The spelling-bee fad started on the strawberry festival set spread to other sets by way of the Warner studio Green Room where the cast of "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air," ate lunch with players in other films. Within a week virtually every company on the lot was using the spelling-bee as diversion and relaxation between scenes.

The second feature pictures
Eddie Quillan and Rita Johnson
in "London by Night."

Taylor, regarded as the most sensational box-office draw since Clark Gable first leaped to fame, comes into his newest leading role following such hits as "Private Number," "Small Town Girl," and
"Magnificent Obsession."

W. S. Van Dyke, the man who made such outstanding pictures
as "San Francisco," "Rose Marie," and "Naughty Marietta," directed
"His Brother's Wife."

The new picture, adapted to the screen by Leon Gordon and John Meehan, also features Jean Hersholt, who has become tremendously popular as the result of starring roles in "The Country Doctor" and "Sins of Man."

"You Can't Get away With It,"
an authentic crime story of Hoover and his G-men, is the second feature.

ARE LINKED WITH STAGE

Most of the players in "Room Service," coming to the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday night,
November 15, have established,
well-earned records on Broadway.
Several of them, in addition to their own personal achievements, are either the relatives or descendants of prominent people outside the theatre.

Robert Williams, for instance, is the direct descendant of the founder of Roxbury, one of the early communities in Massachusetts. A relative of this ancestor was Roger Williams, who established Rhode Island. Fleming
Ward is the direct descendant of Lyman Hall, signer of the Decla-

Coast Limits Give Smugglers Immunity

Three-mile Limit Greatly Hampers R.C.M.P. in Preventive Work

OTTAWA (CP)—Immunity from seizure enjoyed by rum-running vessels beyond the three-mile limit is one of the difficulties of the marine section of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has to encounter in its coastal patrol work.

In his annual report Sir James MacBrien, commissioner of the force, says:

"One of the basic weaknesses in dealing with rum-running vessels from a preventive angle is the fact that the 12-mile jurisdiction seawards is at present limited strictly to vessels registered in Canada, having in mind that some 80 per cent of the rum-running craft are registered in other British possessions."

"The present situation gives these vessels immunity outside the three-mile limit. However, there is reason to hope that as a result of negotiations with the Imperial government, vessels registered in other British possessions may come under the jurisdiction of Canadian Customs Act up to the 12-mile limit."

Smuggling was made so tough the illegal liquor vendors had to raise their prices. Assistant Commissioner F. J. Mead found on an inspection trip in the lower St. Lawrence area.

Smuggled alcohol rose from $12 to $18 and $20 per can and the inducement to purchase it in preference to legal liquor was greatly reduced.

Total seizures under both customs and excise acts during the year ending last March 31 was 3,047 compared with 3,010 the previous year, but the quantities of liquor, mash and the number of stills seized were considerably in excess of the previous year's totals.

B.C. COAST CLEAR

Liquor smuggling from the United States disappeared from British Columbia during the year, a marked change over conditions prevailing some years ago. There was little in the prairie provinces and practically none in Ontario.

Although water-borne traffic liquor into Quebec was curbed, runners continued to bring it in by automobile. Using fast cars and enlisting assistance of farmers along the border they created a problem for law-enforcement officers, but some progress was made in curtailing the inflow.

FERRY IN TROUBLE

Some difficulty was experienced by the Ss. Iroquois of the Puget Sound Navigation Company in getting out of the Inner Harbor for Seattle.

Caught in the stiff southwest blow, the ferry had a hard time and was carried across the harbor in the general direction of Johnson Street Bridge.

The tug Superior and Respond of the Island Tug and Barge company had to be requisitioned to assist the Iroquois in getting out of the harbor.

Seattle Bids For Contracts

Participation in U.S. Maritime Construction Programme Sought By City

SEATTLE—Waterfront officials are driving forward in a bid for a new shipbuilding site in Seattle for participation in the recently announced maritime construction programme, it was revealed following a conference on the plausibility of using Pier 41 at Smith Cove for such a purpose.

Port officers conferred with Senator Lewis B. Schwellenbach on the proposal, pointing out that a major portion of the pier is at present unused and is ideally situated and adaptable to construction of large ships.

The pier is the longest ocean terminal in the world.

"Early this year the port offered this site for building the proposed giant floating drydock for Pearl Harbor, Port President Smith M. Wilson pointed out, but the navy later abandoned the proposal."

"We have now confirmed the idea to commercial shipbuilding for Seattle, arising from the maritime commission's plan for merchant marine expansion."

While formative plans are still awaiting a more definite announcement from Washington on a shipping revival, local interests and labor leaders are studying possibilities. Further conferences between port men and Senator Schwellenbach will be held, it was announced.

Docking facilities at the pier would not be interfered with, as tonnage demands utilize comparatively little space.

DRIFTING DREDGE TOWED TO PORT

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—The sag-battered dredge foundation Scarboro was towed into this Cape Breton port Saturday by the Canadian Government steamship Lady Laurier, ending almost a week of will-o'-the-wisp freedom and a hectic chapter in the life of the runaway craft.

When the Lady Laurier towed her meekly past Cranberry Head, it was the first time since the previous Saturday night the Scarboro had sighted land. On the way from Halifax to Montreal with four men aboard, she broke loose from the tug Banscott, wandered out into the Atlantic and braved mountainous seas for nearly a week.

Mother, Children, Killed By Train

PENACOOK, N.H.—A mother and two small children walking across a railroad bridge yesterday were struck by a Boston-Montreal express train and hurled into the Merimack River.

Railroad officials said the victims were Mrs. Mary Sargent, Mary, eight, and Henry, seven.

Three Drowned On Buoy Work

QUEBEC (CP)—Three men drowned in Bay of Chaleur Saturday off New Richmond, in Quebec's Bonaventure County, 250 miles east of here.

The triple tragedy was announced in a brief message received at the Quebec agency of the Department of Transport. It gave few details of the drownings.

One of the victims was a man named Guite, a contractor who was engaged in the lifting of buoys from the bay. The other two men were believed to have been employed by Guite.

Officials here believed the three must have been using a small boat in hoisting buoys from the water and the craft capsized.

In the government graving basin, Yarrows Ltd. is proceeding with the installation of the heating system on board H.M.C.S. Fraser, which is also undergoing refit.

TRAVELERS TO SPEED IN AIR

Altitude Passenger Planes at 250 Miles an Hour Within 18 Months

NEW YORK (AP)—High altitude flying in scaled, super-charged cabins, with speeds approaching 250 miles an hour, probably will be offered the traveler on United States air transport lines in another 18 months.

Air liners will cruise at 20,000 to 25,000 feet. Operating speeds will range from 235 to 250 miles an hour, as against the current 190 miles an hour.

Thirty-five passengers will be accommodated in seat planes and 20 in sleeper planes. The coast-to-coast elapsed time bids fair to be cut from 17 hours to 14 hours or less westward, and from 15 hours 30 minutes to 12 hours eastbound.

Both officers were charged with stranding and hazarding the new cruiser that went aground northwest of Weymouth Bay, October 20.

Commander Pemberton also was ordered reprimanded.

F. Wilts, mate on a North Vancouver ferry, reported seeing a small boy fishing from a rowboat in the inlet Saturday. Later the empty boat was discovered and towed to shore.

CLIPPERS WIN COAST OPENER

SPOKANE—With the first victory of the 1937-38 Pacific Coast Hockey League season noched on their sticks Spokane Clippers sat back today and waited to see how their erstwhile Portland opponents fared on an initial swing 'round the four-team circuit.

After taking a 2 to 1 defeat from Clippers in the league's inaugural here last night the Bucs headed for Vancouver, where they open the Canadian season with Guy Patrick's Lions.

In a rough, tough 60 minutes of play that saw the penalties handed out, Clippers snagged a 7 to 0 lead in the middle period, tacked on another in the third and held a Portland drive to a single counter.

Four major penalties were passed out by Referee Bill Shaver when tempers flared in the hot going and players dropped sticks for fists.

Vic Ripley, former National Hockey League and one-time star—Calgary junior—breezed through three BUC defenders midway in the second period and lifted a hard shot that snapped past goalie Andy Attkinhead for the first score.

Connie King took a centre-ice pass from Aubrey Webster to poke in Spokane's second early in the last frame.

Les Whittles, ex-Seattle Seahawk, saved the Bucs from a whitewashing just past the 14.30 minute mark on a short pass from Ronnie Martin.

First clash came in the opening 20 minutes when big Ernie Kenny, clipper rearguard, tangled with Bob Gilmour, Portland defenceman, during a corner-rink melee. Both drew majors.

Max Sutherland, red headed BUC defenceman, and Webster of the Clippers picked up the other major penalties in the last period when they bumped each other roughly, then dropped sticks and started swinging.

SUMMARY

First period—no score. Penalties: Gilmour, Blyth, Gilhooley, Kenny, Gilmour (major), Kenny (major).

Second period—1, Spokane, Ripley, 9.39.

Penalties—Blyth, Gilhooley.

Third period—2, Spokane, King (Webster) 6.17; 3, Portland, Whittles (Martin) 14.32.

tively, boosted Seattle back again. The half was nine minutes old when Egge brought the score 30 to 29, and Wagner sank a "buck shee" effort to clinch the score at 30 to 30.

CLOSE FINISH

Three minutes later Rogin sank a free throw, but Jack Gannon plunked in a two-pointer and Seattle thus got their first lead, but it was wiped out when Rogin converted a free throw after being fouled by Wagner. With the game in its last three minutes Moose Rogin sank a fine basket through the bucket play, but almost immediately after Egge's basket again threw the score into a 34 to 34 deadlock. In the last minute ever-smiling Hank Rowe rang up a basket and then sank a free throw that gave his team a three-point margin.

In the final session, Coste went over for the Scottish. Brodigan scored for the students and Noel converted. The final try of the game came when the Highlanders were awarded three points because of running interference on the part of the collegians.

Walter Hammond Retires as Pro

BRISTOL, England—Walter Hammond, England's greatest all-round cricketer of modern times, is leaving professional ranks and next season will play as an amateur for Gloucestershire. It is thought likely Hammond will be seriously considered as England's captain against Australia next year.

"I am relinquishing professional cricket because I am now 34 and must consider the future," said Hammond who has been appointed director of a London tie company. ended the scoring on a relay from Neil and Mac Colville.

Boston threw an up-coming young forward line from Kitchener, Ont., at the Maroons and Eddie Shore, his back injury entirely healed, looked like the Shore of old on Bruins' bruising defence.

But Ray Getliffe dashed in from left wing through the Maroon defence post Lionel Colacher used to occupy to steal most of the opening-night show.

COOK LOOKS GOOD

Tommy Cook, released by Chicago for breaking training rules last season, lived up to all coach King Clancy had promised as he scored Montreal's first goal in three minutes of play. Before the end of the period Getliffe had sent his club ahead 4 to 1, however, and he clicked again in the second before Jimmy Ward counted for Maroons.

Boston's "baby line" of Milt Schmidt, Porky Dumart and Bobby Bauer broke away with Flash Hollet in the last period, and Schmidt finished the dash with the final goal. The defeat partly spoiled Clancy's inaugural as coach, but he led an aggressive, relentless team that gave Montrealers the best opener in years.

Ten thousand fans watched Gordon Drillon lead his forward line, whose other members are Harvey (Busher) Jackson and Syl Apps, in Toronto's sparkling victory. Drillon's three goals were augmented by Jackson's two and Apps and Jackson got assists.

The Thistles got their second goal before the finish, on a shot by Cosier.

ESQUIMALT WINS

In a match featured by fast play, Esquimalt turned back the City for their initial victory of the season. Both teams worked hard and if all the scoring chances had been taken advantage of the score would have been much higher.

Although they were kept on the defence a good part of the first half, the Esquimalt eleven managed to sneak a one-goal lead just before the interval, Holness scoring his first marker.

The second half opened with the City putting on the pressure, and it was not long before Cliff Robbins got home a good shot to tie the match at 1 to 1.

Striking for the goal with a nice bit of footwork, Holness gave Esquimalt the lead five minutes later and made it 3 to 1 when he nipped in around the City backs and planted the ball behind Rowe in goal. The City threw every man on the attack and, just before the final whistle, Robbins got his second counter, making the final count 3 to 2.

pass from Bob Fritz and galloped to the Calgary 43.

Olander's put was fumbled by Rosano but Snowdon recovered on Bronks' one-yard stripe where Rosano's second error set the stage for Winnipeg's lone touchdown. Johnny's punt went off the side of his foot and into touch to give bombers possession 10 yards out. Bob Fritz plunged for five, then battered the line for the major score which Olander converted from placement to make the count 12 to 10.

ARGOS BEATEN

TORONTO—Thunder of the fiercest round of fighting on the east's football front rolled back today, leaving situations abounding in possibilities in the Big Four and Intercollegiate Unions. Only Sarnia Imperials survived with ease a card that toppled the section's one unbeaten, united squad.

The hitherto perfect Toronto Argonauts fell under the razzle-dazzle of Montreal Indians by 11 to 2 and before dusk settled over the football fields Saturday, Ottawa Rough Riders wounded Hamilton Tigers 14 to 4, to create a three-way tie for second place behind the front-running scullers.

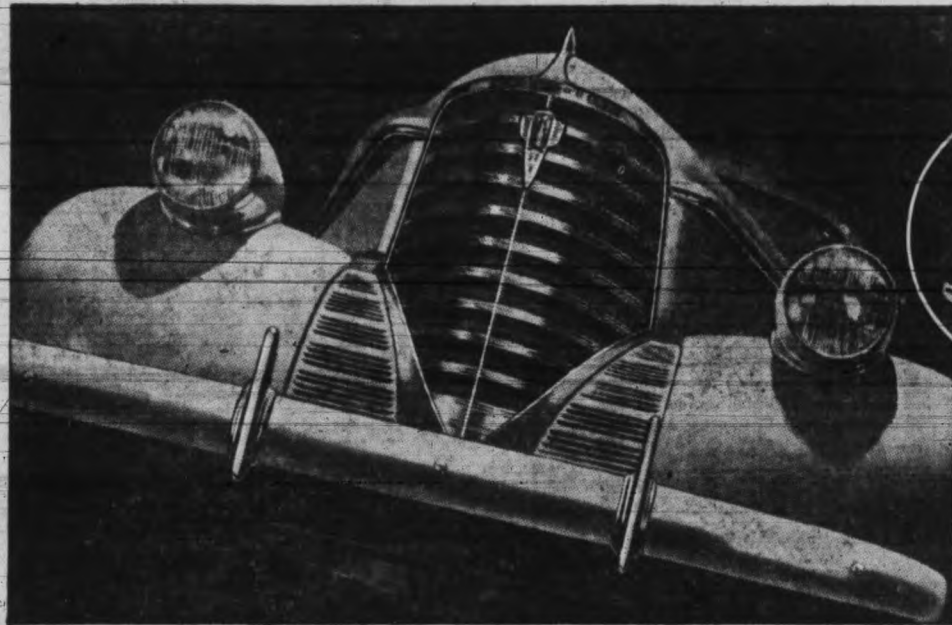

There was nothing quite so upsetting in the college league. But a 12 to 8 victory for Queen's over Western at Kingston was not altogether expected and no one figured the Luckless McGill redmen to hold University of Toronto to a 7 to 6 score.

Bringing a little calm to the semi-shocked observers, Sarnia's mighty Imperials rolled up to their seventh successive Ontario Union title on a 34 to 6 pasting of Hamilton Panthers.
